BRITISH FLIERS BOMB NAPLES

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 1—British bombers attacked the great industrial center of Naples last night in their first raid on the southern mainland of Italy, and hit the railroad station, oil tanks and refineries, the air ministry reported today.

ITALIANS ROUTED—The two Italian drives (arrows) aimed at Salonika and Corinth (circled) today had been pushed back by counter-attacking Greek soldiers at Janina (1) and along the western border of Greece (2). Capture of huge booty by the Greeks was also reported . . . while Italian sources claimed bombing successes, including two attacks on Patras (3).

Able to "pinpoint" their targets, it said, the British fliers roared over Naples in three waves and, at times, swooped to within 2000 feet of the city's rooftops to let go their bombs.

The first attackers said they concentrated on the oil refinery and groups of storage tanks at Poggio Reale, on Naples' southern outskirts; the second on the railroad station and junction; the third on antiaircraft batteries and searchlights, silencing one battery.

Heavy bombs were dropped and many explosions were followed by fires during the three-quarters of an hour attack, it added. Opposition from the ground defenses was described as "slight and ineffective."

An air ministry communique today reported "a successful attack on oil tanks and other objectives" at the Italian port but did not disclose the base of the British bombers. However, since it specified that they were of the bomber command, naval planes were ruled out.

Malta, 350 miles from Naples, is the nearest British base for land planes.

British bombardments of the Italian mainland previously had been confined to such northern industrial cities as Milan and Turin, carried out by bombers crossing the Alps from Britain. Naples, however, is about 1000 miles from England and slightly more than that from Gibraltar.

The Italian high command said "slight damage" was caused in the Naples suburbs of Bagnoli and Pomigliano d'Arco. The former is the site of some of Italy's largest steel plants and the latter of airplane factories, testing fields and laboratories. The Rome communique reported one person killed, five wounded.—Editor's note.

INVADERS CAPTURE 79 GREEK TOWNS

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP)—Italian vanguards have driven 35 miles from the Albanian frontier into the Ioannina sector of northwestern Greece and have taken a district containing 79 villages, Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported today.

As Ioannina, also known as Janina, is only 35 miles from the border in a straight line, the Stefani report would indicate either that the city now is under Fascist siege or that the Italians are not advancing on the shortest line.—Editor's note.

The Stefani report said that the area so far in Italian hands is known as the sub-prefecture of Siiati and contains 35,000 inhabitants.

In Egypt motorized Italian columns were said to have attacked British forces and prsued them beyond Alam el Samn, 25 miles east of Sidi Barani.

Italian warplanes, the high command said, "unleashed violent attacks" on British positions in North Africa, during which they engaged in a "bitter combat" with British fighters.

Seventeen British planes were reported shot down and two others were listed as "probably" downed. Three Italian planes was said to be missing.

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 1 (AP)—Tank-supported Italian infantry attacks in northwestern Greece have been "repulsed everywhere," the

Nazi Plane Up 5 Miles Shot Down

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A Messerschmitt fighting plane was shot down by British anti-aircraft fire while flying at a height of nearly five miles above Dover today, the air ministry announced.

Italy's Spokesman Says F. D. Pushing U. S. Toward War

ROME, Nov. 1 (INS)—The charge that President Roosevelt has deliberately fostered war agitation against the Axis powers and that the United States will join the conflict on Britain's side shortly was made today by Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor.

Accusing the President of "deliberate warlike intentions and preparations" against the Rome-Berlin Axis, Premier Mussolini's authoritative press spokesman said:

"The decision to synchronize production (between Great Britain and the United States) confesses a de facto Anglo-American armament and war alliance.

"The United States' attitude toward England is entirely analagous to Italy's attitude toward Germany before June 10 (the period of non-belligerency which preceded Italy's entry into the war).

"Soon America will be able to join the British Empire effectively in the war and undoubtedly will do so."

VIRGINIO GAYDA

Gayda devoted ten columns to his article, one of the longest he has ever published in the Giornale d'Italia. It was for the most part biographical, but Gayda dwelt at some length upon his charges of war agitation by Mr. Roosevelt.

CITES U. S. NOTE TO VICHY

"It is evident," he wrote, "that President Roosevelt's policy is intended to control and steer the course of the European war.

"Everything demonstrates the existence of programmatic offensive hostility and deliberate warlike preparations by Roosevelt's group against the Axis.

"President Roosevelt's message to Vichy threatening immediate occupation of Martinique, Guadalupe and French Guiana in event of an agreement among France and the Axis, proves his intention to interfere with the free will of European countries."

President Roosevelt sent a note to the Vichy government last week reiterating this government's warning that the United States would not tolerate any change in the status of France's possessions in the Western Hemisphere.—Editor's note.

President Roosevelt's "group" long ago began a "deliberate offensive against the Axis, Gayda said.

"Americans close to England and France, including Roosevelt, are exclusively responsible for the ideological and political struggle which is now progressing toward war between the Axis and America," he said.

Since his famous Chicago "quarantine" speech, Gayda charged, Mr. Roosevelt has been artificially creating an atmosphere favoring a heavy armament program. Since the European war broke out on Sept. 3, 1939, Gayda said, "he has

State Draft Quotas Set; E. Boston Leads

Quotas for each of the State's 173 draft districts were announced today and District 12, East Boston, with 5794 registrants, highest of all, was given the largest quota—for six men.

On an average, each of the other 26 Boston districts will be required to supply three draftees or volunteers for the first call to the colors of 532 Bay Staters. These men will be inducted into service on Nov. 18.

Nantucket, whose low registration of 301 has been upped to 332 to date, will furnish no one in this first quota. Edgartown and Falmouth districts will have one draftee apiece.

VOLUNTEERS TO FILL QUOTAS

Maj. David B. Weden, public relations officer for the state draft board, said that it was quite unlikely that any but volunteers would answer this first call. Districts have so many youths who have asked for immediate induction that they will be able to fill their quotas from this volunteer class, he explained.

District 28 in Dorchester, which has been troubled in getting permanent quarters for its draft board has finally located at 338 Washington st., it was also announced. Milton's District 103 board will henceforth be in Cunningham junior high school, Edge Hill rd.

With arrival of copies of the Master list of draft numbers drawn in the national lottery, local boards were today drawing up individual order number lists and questionnaires will be sent out to prospective draftees shortly. The second call for men will be for induction on Dec. 2.

Top World Spender, Says Willkie of F. D.

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN IN NEW JERSEY, Nov. 1 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, approaching the end of an 18,000-mile speaking tour, expressed belief today that President Roosevelt had expended more government funds than any other ruler in the world in the same length of time.

From a tiny platform in front of the white-pillared courthouse at New Brunswick, N. J., the Republican presidential nominee declared that his opponent had not lived up to a 1932 platform pledge to cut federal expenses.

"In eight years the federal budget never has approached a balance," Willkie asserted. "No man can balance it today, immediately, but worse than that, there is no attempt to balance it and apparently no desire to balance it."

The current defense program, he predicted, would cost 25 or 30 billion dollars before it is completed.

STRESS MOUNTING TAXES

"That cost is going to be piled upon the overwhelming public debt," he continued. Asking what difference this would make to the average person, Willkie said:

"You pay the taxes. Every suit, every hat, every suit of clothes that I see in this crowd is literally saturated with taxes.

"More than that, when the cost of those things are increased, it has a depressing influence on business."

The nominee contended that government fiscal policies also affected "serial gains" of labor. It does no good to have collective bargaining, he asserted, if a man does not have a job to bargain about.

From continued deficit financing, he said, "inevitably comes inflation, bankruptcy and chaos and out of the ashes of those things come dictators."

The only solution Willkie declared, "is to elect an administration which can stimulate business and provide jobs and raise the national income."

At New Brunswick, Police Lieutenant W. J. Savage estimated the

LaGuardia Sued For Necktie Twit

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia was served today with a summons and complaint in a $350,000 suit brought in behalf of Benjamin H. Owens, whose necktie the mayor pulled in Detroit Oct. 21 while there for a campaign rally.

Owens, a fare box inspector, of Ferndale, Mich., was in the crowd before the Detroit City Hall, where LaGuardia was speaking in behalf of President Roosevelt.

The mayor became irked at a question put to him by Owens, seized him and twisted his necktie.

Gene Tunney Joins Drive for Willkie

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (INS)—Samuel Pryor, eastern campaign manager for Wendell Willkie, today announced that former World's Heavyweight Boxing Champion Gene Tunney would declare himself for Wendell Willkie tonight.

Pryor said that Tunney a lifelong Democrat, would make known his stand in an address at Oklahoma City.

Dr. Chope Resigns Newton Health Post

The resignation of Dr. Harold D. Chope, for five and a half years director of public health in Newton, was announced today by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

AL SMITH SEES F. D. DEFEAT

Predicting a third term defeat, Alfred E. Smith departed Boston today for New York after his Symphony Hall speech, in which he charged that President Roosevelt was using "a smoke screen to hide the greatest failure in recorded history."

Before leaving Boston, the Happy Warrior, who was the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for President in 1928, attended mass at the Church of Our Lady of Victory in Isabella st., in observance of All Saints' Day.

Accompanying him from the Copley Plaza to the services were his wife and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter J. Smith.

At 10:05 a. m. the trio boarded a train at Back Bay station for New York.

OVERFLOW CROWD

An overflow crowd turned out at Symphony Hall to hear Smith charge that the President, within six months after his election in 1932, had broken his promise not to devalue the dollar.

He also told his audience that the President's assurance, delivered through Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, that he will not lead this country into war "ain't so hot.

Without mincing words, the Happy Warrior delivered a fiery blast against Roosevelt's domestic policies and sandwiched in wise-crack upon wise-crack while his listeners laughed and applauded.

SPEECH "SMOKE SCREEN"

Answering the Roosevelt Boston Garden speech of Wednesday night, Smith termed it "a perfect smoke screen intended to blot out the domestic failures of the New Deal.

An audience of 3000 persons was crowded into a hall that will seat 2300, and it is estimated that fully as many were turned away for lack of room.

Smith stood beneath a huge placard depicting Uncle Sam turning thumbs down on the third term. His appearance here was sponsored by the Democrats for Willkie.

Of Willkie he said:

"The Almighty God, in his infinite goodness, has already presented to the United States the man whom she needs in her hour of trial.'

He predicted Willkie's election as the climax of a trend that began in 1938, in an interview given before his speech.

Smith wore a pin-striped suit, a green tie, green handkerchief and green socks. He was introduced by former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, who said of him:

"He made me governor of Mas-

"LITTLE BOY BLUE"
Mother Nears Parole

Judge Revokes Penalty of Boy Blue's Mother

Entirely changed from the girl who defied him last December, 22-year-old Alice Fitzpatrick of Chicopee, mother of Boston's famous foundling, "Little Boy Blue," listened with smiling lips and shining eyes today as Judge Frank W. Tomasello purged her of contempt.

The purging, accompanied by a fatherly talk at the bench in municipal court, paves the way for the young mother's parole from another two-year sentence imposed on the charge of abandoning her baby.

Under the law she could not begin service on the abandonment sentence until she had completed serving the contempt of court sentence.

Moved by repentant letters written by the young mother from Women's Reformatory at Sherborn, Judge Tomasello cut all red tape and had Alice brought into court today.

She listened intently as Judge Tomasello said:

"I have no doubt that your attitude of hardness was caused by your unfortunate experiences in the world as a young girl.

"But that resentment and that bitterness must be forgotten, and I think you are ready to forget them.

"If you wish to take my advice in the same spirit that I offer it and keep your promise to make a fresh start in life, I should like nothing better than to see you back with your baby. A mother and her baby should be together.

"For that reason and because I feel that you are sincerely sorry, I am granting your request that you be purged of contempt.

"I hope your baby will be an inspiration to you to keep your promises. No matter how hard it may be to face the world again, you will find it well worth your while."

EAST CAMBRIDGE BANDITS MISS $1800 PAYROLL

Two holdup men, one armed with a revolver, were badly fooled today in East Cambridge.

When Henry Snider, 50, employe of an East Boston lumber company who had just drawn an $1800 payroll from the County Bank and Trust Co., was ordered to get out of his car and "get away from here," he did so—with the payroll in his pocket.

The bold bandits drove away with the car, on the front seat of which was a bag of envelopes, which they evidently believed contained the cash.

Snider, who lives in Priscilla rd., Newton, and is employed by the McQuesten Lumber Co., of Border st., East Boston, parked his car at Cambridge and Fifth sts. to go to the bank, half a block along Cambridge st.

He had hardly seated himself back in the car when a stocky man, about 30 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighing 190 pounds, quickly stepped over, thrusting a revolver against Snider and ordered him to get out and "get my from here."

At almost the same time another man, about 28 years, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, opened the door on the driver's side, edged Snider over and likewise ordered him to get out.

Snider complied and as he left the car the man with the revolver slid into the seat, beside the box of envelopes, and the sedan was driven away toward Boston.

Malden Police Are Baffled In Slaying of Storekeeper

Half-shaved, traces of lather still on his face, 60-year old James A. Hayes lay on the floor of his Malden variety store—shot through the heart.

A few feet away was the telephone. The receiver was off the hook. The lights were still burning in the store. The door was open and yet it was two hours past closing time.

Near Hayes' body, one bullet discharged, was a pistol later identified as his own.

On the face of it, police first thought it was a suicide. Then they found that there were only a few pennies left in the cash drawer in the store. They decided a holdup man must have slain Hayes.

Who fired the shot was the question they were still unable to answer after hours of workign on the mystery.

Hayes and his wife, Mena, 56, former residents of Dorchester, occupied a three-room apartment in the rear of the store, but when police sought to inform Mrs. Hayes of the tragedy she wasn't home.

They went to Dorchester, to the address of a daughter Mrs. Grace Heath in Rosseter st. and were told that Mrs. Hayes had been there until 9 o'clock, at a Halloween party.

Mrs. Hayes was finally located at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Violet Barrett, in School st., Brain tree.

What she told investigators has not yet been disclosed, but she accompanied Lieut. William F. Cronin and Sergt. Dennis C. Holland, together with State Police Detective Joseph C. Crescio, to Malden police headquarters, where all were closeted for some time.

Hayes' body was found by Wesley Lebert, 28, of Ashton st., Everett, who had just stepped off a street car at Main and Belmont sts., Malden. His attention was attracted by the lights in the store.

Three other men added to the mystery by reporting to police this afternoon that their automobile was nearly run down by a blue roadster, traveling along Malden st. at high speed, close to the hour police believe the fatal shot was fired.

Joseph Forgione of Avon st., Malden, Charles J. Hennick of Lynnwood ave., Melrose and Raymond J. O'Leary, of Springdale st., Malden, said they were on their way home from a party at the time.

"The man in the roadster stopped and shouted, 'I just saw a man shoot himself'," police were told by the trio. They neglected to get the number of the blue car.

The fatal shot pierced Hayes' chest and was imbedded in the wall of the telephone booth.

Voting Interest at New Peak

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY

Copyright, 1940, Crossley Incorporated International Research Organization.

Considerably greater interest in voting this year than ever before, is shown by an analysis of intentions to vote for the states thus far reported. Those who do not intend to vote distribute by age groups very nearly as population is divided.

Two weeks before election, women were a little less sure of voting than men. Potential voters with less income were less decided to vote than others.

Indication of the rapidly growing interest in voting is shown by the fact that the number of voters has increased more than three times as fast as population in the past two decades. It is now expected that of those eligible to vote next Tuesday Illinois and New York will turn out at least 90 per cent, but Indiana is expected to turn out only about 72 per cent.

Many of the Southern states will have only 50 per cent to 60 per cent at the polls. The farm belt will probably show 78 per cent to 85 per cent.

The high figures in the states with very large cities are particularly notable in the light of machine activity. In some counties, for example, past elections have shown figures of 96 per cent.

MUST BE ESTIMATED

Allowing for those too ill or otherwise unable to vote, and for the fact that the 96 per cent is averaged from some lower and some higher figures, such a percentage may be questioned.

In some instances registrations or vote totals have even exceeded known population, including men, women and children.

To forecast an election accurately it is necessary to estimate both the stay-at-homes and machine activity. As these are subject to great variation, no poll can be expected to be exactly right in its prediction. The best that any poll can do when the figures are 53 per cent to 47 per cent or closer is to call it a tie.

What happens when voters stay at home is indicated by the Lehman-Dewey race in 1938 for the governorship of New York. Dewey's loss by tenths of one percentage point is attributable to the much smaller turnout of voters in counties favoring him than the 94 percent turnout in New York city and Albany counties.

FIGURES FOR 1936

Even in the landslide of 1936, only 13 of New York's 62 counties gave Democratic majorities. In 1932 four of New Jersey counties swung the state to Roosevelt.

Throughout the country this year's registration figures are high. In some key states the increase is greater in the large cities than elsewhere. These increases may mean machine organization, or they may mean that in those places where machines operate the voluntary vote will be greater. The probable answer is both—a battle between the organized vote and the voluntary vote.

The 1940 election is likely to hit closer to total possible voters of all groups than ever in recent election history.

How 1936 non-voters will vote this year:

	Those Under Voting Age In 1936	Those of Voting Age In 1936
Roosevelt	45.7%	35.1%
Willkie	44.3%	29.2%
Other Undecided and Not voting	10.0%	35.7%

AXIS HITS WIDE AREA IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 1—Axis bombing planes struck at London, Merseyside and other points in England and Scotland by daylight today.

Three waves of enemy raiders, including six Italian heavy bombers, crossed the southeast coast but their formations were broken up by heavy anti-aircraft fire and they were scattered and pursued to sea by British fighters.

London, after a comparatively quiet night, underwent two alarms before noon, but both were brief and British fighters in each case were reported to have turned back the attacking planes.

In a later raid several bombs were dropped on the capital's outskirts. One demolished a house, but all the occupants apparently had taken shelter.

Bombers were reported over Merseyside, dock and shipbuilding area of Liverpool, this afternoon.

Raiding planes also were reported at an east Scotland coast town. A solitary raider which dropped bombs near an East Anglia village, causing a number of casualties, was reported brought down at sea.

During a pre-dawn raid, four persons were killed and a number injured by a bomb which fell in a London residential district, where several houses were demolished.

A large part of the British press, meanwhile, demanded stronger blows against Italy and cheered the Greek navy for shelling Italian positions along the Albanian border.

With a long rest in the middle of the night, London underwent one of the lightest after-dark attacks of the war on the 55th consecutive night of bombings.

Two explanations were suggested for the lessening of air raids during the last week—first, bad weather, with ground mists and boggy fields in France; second, the assertion that many German bombing pilots have gone to southeastern Europe,

Screams of 2 Women Rout Chelsea Attacker

Two Chelsea young women reported to police today that a "sandy-haired" young man had made ardent—but startled—demonstrations of affection to them separately a few minutes apart.

First Miss Sarah Dolan, 30, of Marlborough st., told officers she was walking to her home sometime after midnight when a youth, of about 20, five feet three inches tall, with sandy hair, jumped out from behind a hedge as she passed a street light.

He pulled her to him, she said, tore at her dress and caressed her—briefly. After screams, he turned and ran down the street.

Officers Jack Pike and Charles Trocki were sent to the scene, but barely had they started when Miss Edith Anthony, 29, who lives on the same street, called police headquarters.

She, too, said a "little man with sandy hair had jumped out at her, and gone through the same performance. Once again, the frightened girl screamed for help, and...

Chief Charles A. Fox then sent a squad on of men to patrol the entire district.

AL SMITH SEES F. D. DEFEAT

sachusetts just by one word spoken to thousands in the Boston Arena."

Smith struck hard at his former friend who christened him the "Happy Warrior," declaring that the Roosevelt administration was "the greatest failure in recorded history."

Most of the time he referred to the President as "third-term candidate." Launching at once into an attack, he said:

"The third-term candidate was in Boston last night and he said: 'We face the future with confidence! Confidence in what? (Cheers). (A voice) 'Wendell Willkie' (Laughter)."

"It wasn't necessary to bring Joe Kennedy back to assure us that the President means it when he said that he is not headed for war. We had a sample of that in 1932.

"At one point in the 1932 campaign the candidate was nervous because he was being accused of a plot to devalue our money. He induced Senator Carter Glass of Virginia to get out of a sick bed and make a speech.

"Carter Glass's word would be taken around the world. He was secretary of the treasury under Wilson and was the author of the Federal Reserve act. So the third-term candidate had his friend Glass come out and vouch for the accuracy of his statement.

"And six months after he was inaugurated he repudiated Glass, repudiated his promise, and he devalued the dollar, just as everybody was afraid he was going to do. (Applause).

"So Joe Kennedy's assurance ain't so hot. (Laughter and applause).

F. D. Planning Reply on 'My Ambassador'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (INS)—President Roosevelt prepared for his final campaign swing through New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio today confident of his re-election for a third term.

The Chief Executive told his press conference that the guess he had sealed up sometime ago in an envelope as to the outcome of the election remained exactly the same. If said he had looked at it the other day and decided there was no need to make any change.

TO ANSWER WILLKIE

Meanwhile, Mr. Roosevelt indicated he probably would have something to say in Brooklyn tonight in answer to Wendell Willkie's attack on his use of the phrase "my ambassador" in describing Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to the Court of St. James, in his Wednesday night Boston speech.

Willkie, in Camden, N. J., last night, referring to the "My ambassador" remark, drew a laugh when he said: "It used to be 'My friends.' Now it is 'My ambassador.' Pretty soon it may be 'My generals.' It certainly is 'My captain.' Then it will be 'My people'."

The "captain" reference was to the promotion of Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son, to a captaincy in the Army Air Corps. —Editor's Note.

Questioned about the Willkie speech at Camden last night, the President said he did not think it proper to take a purely political thing up at a press conference. He suggested, however, that the State Department could explain to anyone what an ambassador or minister was. Then he added he might say something about it himself tonight.

TOPIC 'NUMBER FOUR'

Asked for the topic of his Brooklyn speech was, the President thought a second, then replied number four.

The Chief Executive was in fine spirits and made a few indirect jibes at his opposition at other points in the press conference. Apparently jibbing at Willkie, he said it was just kindergarten stuff to realize that American airplane plant capacity will have to be expanded to take care of the American and British building programs because present facilities are insufficient.

Then he added that he was amused at the way some people—he wouldn't say Republican leaders, he remarked—had taken his announcement in Boston the other night regarding the order of 12,000 planes by Britain. These planes can't be taken off the counter of Sears-Roebuck, he said, and the National Defense Council is arranging additional plant capacity.

Because it seems wise to him to keep pretty close home, the President said he probably would return to Washington Sunday from Cleveland instead of going to Hyde Park for the week-end.

75 Nuns to Mark 100th Anniversary

The 100th anniversary of the arrival in America of the Sisters of Providence will be observed Sunday by 75 nuns attached to the order when they are guests of the members of the Cheverus Centennial School Alumni Association.

Nuns from Stoneham, Chelsea and Malden will meet at Sacred Heart Church, Malden, to attend solemn high mass at 10 a. m. Sunday a private banquet for the sisters will follow and at 2 p. m. the group will be tendered a reception in the Cheverus School Hall.

McMASTERS' SUPPORT AIDS DEVER

In addresses at Northampton, Chicopee, Holyoke and Palmer, the Governor linked the campaign issue as continuance of clean government free from political interference.

Citing the endorsement of his administration's conduct of civil service by the Federation of State, City and Town Employes, the chief executive said:

"This is a gratifying tribute from the people who know best the progress we have made during the past two years in substituting merit and the square deal for political pull in civil service. This is a fine indication of the effect which our policy is having on fostering good morale in the public service."

The civil service issue was taken up by Dever in a swing through the State's southeastern textile district.

Doris Duke, Mate Split?

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (INS)—The New York Daily Mirror in an exclusive story today stated that Doris Duke Cromwell will leave for Honolulu Sunday after completing plans to seek a divorce from her husband, James Cromwell, who is campaigning for election as United States senator from New Jersey.

The divorce action, the Mirror says, is being delayed until after election so as not to embarrass Cromwell's political campaign.

Cop Gets Apology From Early

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Stephen Early, secretary of President Roosevelt, issued a statement, apologizing to a New York Negro police officer and the police commissioner there "for having had any part" in what he described as a "regrettable" altercation Monday night.

The presidential secretary prefaced his apology with the assertion that "I do not believe that I did anything wrong in this incident."

The text of Early's statement follows.

"In certain Republican quarters political importance is being attached to an unfortunate altercation which took place between a detail of New York city policemen and myself on Monday night last.

SHOWED CREDENTIALS

"As part of my official duty, I was endeavoring to obtain permission for a group of about 35 newspaper men and others to board the train on which they had to return to their places of duty in Washington. I showed my credentials.

"All of the people in the group also had official credentials to board the train. It was essential for them that they get on that train before it left. Unfortunately, the police had received instructions to let nobody pass under any circumstances. I was doing my best to identify this group and to convince the police that it was imperative and proper for this party to pass through the police line before the train left.

"During the discussion there was a great deal of jostling and shoving in the crowd which had gathered there; and I am deeply sorry that a policeman appears to have been hurt while trying to carry out instructions which he had received. I did not have any personal controversy with this man, having had all my discussion with the sergeant in command of the detail.

DID NOTHING WRONG

"I do not believe that I did anything wrong in this incident. I did not attack nor kick any officer. But, since one officer believes I was responsible for hurting him, I wish to apologize to him particularly, and to Comm'r Valentine for having had any part in this regrettable affair.

"I cannot understand why Republican politicians are attempting to find political significance in this incident."

Earlier in the day, the office of Dist. Atty. Thomas E. Dewey at New York asked Police Comm'r Lewis J. Valentine for his department's report on the incident.

Patrolman to Vote For F. D. Nevertheless

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—James Sloan, Negro patrolman who was injured at Pennsylvania station Monday night, shortly before President Roosevelt's train left for Washington, said today he intended to vote for the President.

As heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis, who is campaigning for Wendell L. Willkie, and a half a dozen Negro Republican officials gathered at Sloan's bedside, a newsman asked Sloan how he was going to vote.

"I'm a Democrat," the policeman said.

"Will you vote for Roosevelt?" he was asked.

"I will," he replied.

crowd at more than 10,000. Before he was introduced, the nominee smiled and waved his hand to the time of his campaign song, "We want Willkie in the White House."

SEES MISSOURI VICTORY

Willkie said he had heard from "responsible people" this morning that he would carry Missouri and that "the swing in Kentucky is coming more rapidly every hour."

"I feel very confident we are going to carry West Virginia," he added. "There is no question bout what is going to happen in this State (New Jersey) despite Frank Hague."

Earlier Willkie asserted President Roosevelt's foreign policies "are leading us straight to a war for which we are totally unready," and added that his domestic policies "are leading to complete collapse."

The Republican presidential nominee issued a statement continuing his criticism of the Chief Executive's Boston address.

He announced he would discuss the speech further in a radio broadcast at 8:30 o'clock tonight over the NBC (Red) network. Special attention will be placed on aviation angles.

ANSWERS F. D.

Willkie's statement, made public from his special train which will be broken up tomorrow noon, took up primarily Mr. Roosevelt's disclosure at Boston Wednesday of what the Republican candidate termed "certain orders which the British government has placed with our manufacturers."

"And the tragic fact," he said, "is that, owing to the policy of neglect and delay over the past seven years, they must remain on order for many, many months to come."

(In Boston Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had asked the defense priorities board to give "most sympathetic consideration" to a British request to order 12,000 more planes from American manufacturers.—Editor's Note.)

TAKES CREDIT

The Republican candidate argued that the President "by inference and innuendo" tried to take credit for the plane orders to manufacturers who, he declared, had been neglected and "even abused" by the New Deal.

"I was surprised by the use, in such a superficial manner," he said, "of an effort so vital to Britain and our own safety. I cannot understand the propriety of speaking in a political speech, as if from the White House; of making campaign material of the duties of the President of the United States."

Declaring that he had entered the campaign determined "insofar as I could, to present a solid American front against the world in this dangerous hour," Willkie continued:

"Accordingly, I went the limit in supporting certain elements of the third-term candidate's position in foreign affairs. This attitude of mine has been called by the third term candidate 'political sterility' and 'me-too' stuff.

"I was willing to forego use of some of the most telling points against Mr. Roosevelt's rashness in foreign affairs. But my opposition was not willing to let it rest at that."

The President, he contended, has refused to debate "our great domestic issues." Willkie asked why, and replied to his own question by saying:

"Obviously, because he couldn't. In every field after a record of failure, he has only to offer that he has spent almost sixty billions and increased our national debt by twenty-four billions—and accomplished no recovery whatever."

Willkie scheduled only two talks today—at New Brunswick and Elizabeth, N. J.,—before sending his campaign train to a New Jersey siding for 24-hours parking. His radio speech tonight will be given from his private car, and the candidate will remain in seclusion on the train until shortly before he speaks tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden, New York.

That rally will be the official climax of his campaign for the presidency.

Willkie Lead 528,600 In Popular Vote Poll

Except for the Solid South, traditionally Democratic Wendell Willkie goes into the home stretch of the presidential campaign with a majority of 528,600 in the popular vote, according to the results of a poll published today in the New York Daily Mirror.

On Oct. 13 the same survey showed that President Roosevelt had a lead of 275,300 votes, in these same areas excepting the Solid South, so that the total shift since then is 803,900 to the Republican candidate.

Willkie's gains are in the Northeast, North Central States and the Far West. Even in the South, Willkie increases from Oct. 13, when he had 30.3 per cent of the voters, to an indicated 31.9 per cent, with corresponding loss to the President.

In the survey the states in the Solid South are given without reservation to President Roosevelt. They comprise 165 electoral votes and give the President a popular plurality of 3,016,700 votes.

Some, notably Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky, are considered in Republican circles as not sure for Roosevelt. If the President should lose one or more of these, his hazards naturally increase.

The survey report says that from the Republican point of view the shift to Willkie in the areas outside the Solid South can be seen as highly encouraging and that if there is any error in the survey's calculation it is on the side of conservatism.

Willkie will provide new jobs in business, but has promised that the WPA and related forms of relief will be continued as long as needed.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Willkie has taken losing businesses and made them successful. Business men and workers have confidence in him. It is only through this confidence, which the New Deal has lost, that industry and labor can combine to produce the guns, tanks, airplanes, and warships we so vitally need and are not getting.

WAR

"We can stay out of war if on November 5, we vote Franklin D. Roosevelt out of office," said the Rev. James M. Gillis, Editor of the Catholic World.

YOUTH

Willkie's life is proof of the opportunities for young people in America. He knows young people need a chance for a job, and he knows they can't get that chance under New Deal defeatism.

U-BOAT VICTIMS LIVE AFTER 70 DAYS IN OPEN BOAT

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Nov. 1 (AP)—After spending 70 days at sea in a tiny boat, two Boston men have reached the safety of British soil in a voyage rivaling that of Capt. William Bligh following the Mutiny on [illegible].

The two men, Wilbert Roy Widdicombe, 24, and Robert George Tapscott, 19, were [illegible] the only survivors of the torpedoing freighter Anglo-Saxon [illegible] by a Nazi raider 500 miles [illegible] of the Azores Aug. 2.

Propped up in bed [illegible] the cheerful Widdicombe [illegible] lost 30 pounds during the [illegible] 2500-mile transatlantic voyage told how seven men had [illegible] into the 16-foot boat when the raider opened fire.

Two of them died [illegible] gun wounds inflicted by the raider.

"When we took to the boat we had 20 pounds of biscuits, four gallons of water, 11 tins of condensed milk and 16 pounds of tinned beef," Widdicombe said.

"This lasted 15 days. Gradually the other three men started to lose their minds and one night two jumped overboard. The next day the other cut his throat.

"We just sailed and drifted endlessly. We ran into three hurricanes. We had no fishing tackle, but one sail fish and one gar fish washed into the boat and we ate them raw.

"Seaweed was our only food for most of the journey," Widdicombe continued. "Tapscott was sinking fast when we sighted a white beach and ran the boat ashore. Then we staggered and crawled to some trees and fainted.

That was at nearby Eleuthera island.

TURKEY WON'T GO INTO WAR

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Ismet Inonu of Turkey informed his national assembly today that Turkey would not enter the war now, but was studying the situation in the Mediterranean in collaboration with Great Britain, her ally.

The key to the decision seemed to observers to lie in the President's statement that Turkey's relations with Soviet Russia "are now taking a friendly turn" after "passing through a critical stage."

He reiterated, however, that Turkey would fight instantly if attacked and insisted: "We remain loyal to our friendships, obligations and ties of collaboration."

"Our neighbors, the Greeks, unfortunately have been called into the war and we, with our ally, Britain, are studying the situation," said Inonu.

"Our country has decided to defend our independence, security and land. This is the greatest pride of our nation and no change has been made in our foriegn policy. We have no external ambitions . . .

"We have decided to act for the interests of our nation without harming anyone else.'

This was interpreted to mean that Turkey, acting probably with the counsel of Soviet Russia, had decided to await developments before going to war. These developments might be a direct attack on Turkey or entrance of Bulgaria into the Greek-Italian war on the side of the Axis.

79 Greek Towns Fall To Italians

Greek general staff asserted today, and the small Greek navy has moved alongshore to bombard the invading Fascists.

Greek planes also joined in the fighting, a communique said, bombing and machine-gunning invasion forces "from a low altitude." Naval guns were said to have shelled "successfully" the Italian right wing (closest to the sea) for more than an hour yesterday.

The communique said the Fascist forces suffered losses in yesterday's fighting and added that "prisoners were taken."

Athens heard two air raid alarms today. The first warned of the approach of five Italian planes which were held over the western part of the city by heavy anti-tircraft fire. An hour later, the sirens sounded again. In neither case, however, were bombs reported.

For the second time in as many days the general staff reported that "irregulars are collaborating with the enemy" without further identification.

(A frontier correspondent of Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported Albanian formations were included in the Fascist invasion columns.) Editor's note.

Continued Italian air raids yesterday on the Port of Patras were reported officially and the toll of Monday's opening raid on the city reached 100 dead and 250 injured as Premier Metaxas addressed a message of sympathy to the city.

NOTED CATHOLIC DIES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 1 (AP) — Former State Treasurer Percival de St. Aubin, treasurer and director of the Vesta Underwear Company here and one of the State's leading Catholic laymen, died today in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was 53.

U. S. BOMB SIGHT TO BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (INS)—Great Britain will receive the Army's crack bombsight and every other military airplane coming off American assembly lines, defense leaders reported today as the United States marshalled additional resources for the English war machine.

Less than 24 hours after President Roosevelt promised 12,000 additional airplanes for the RAF, high officials disclosed that the Army is releasing its bombsight to the British government.

At the same time, members of the British purchasing mission said orders have been placed for "a great many" American merchant ships and that a large additional number will be acquired over the next year.

Release of the army's bombsight has been expected for some time. This device, while better than any bombsight developed abroad, is still inferior to that now being used by the American navy. The sight is manufactured by the Sperry Gyroscope Co.

The navy's bombsight will not be released to England, but all army craft will be equipped with the device.

President Roosevelt, at his press conference today, was asked to say whether it was true that bomb sight shipments soon would start across the Atlantic. He replied that he had not the faintest idea whether the story was correct, and if it was like other stories, he added, it isn't.

[illegible] of partial [illegible] of the Allies.

U. S. "DISCRIMINATORY"

The Fascist [illegible] accused the United States [illegible] ment of "discriminating measures" against Germany and Italy.

Secretary Hull, speaking last Saturday night over a nationwide broadcast, described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan as "would-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to "a master and slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force."

They "adhere to no geographic limitations on their programs of invasion" and "there can be nothing more dangerous for our nation than for us to assume that the avowed aim of conquest could under no circumstances reach any vital portion of this hemisphere," Hull asserted. Editors note.

"Surveillance measures have been applied exclusively against the Axis powers at Bermuda when Gayda says land," Gayda said. "The embargo of last July was directed against the Axis, and another case in the cession to England of 50 American destroyers which previously had been declared for action.

"This [illegible] to an important line-up of force against Germany and Italy."

The Rome government is [illegible] ganizing [illegible] the dispatch of arms and fighting men to England, Gayda said, reiterating the charge that the Press Bureau failed to answer an interview from Mussolini in April, 1939, in defense in behalf of European [illegible].

Gayda said that a Spanish diplomat who recently visited the British [illegible] was informed that the [illegible] De Gaulle naval [illegible] Dakar was carried out at the suggestion of the United States.

Frances Perkins Safe In Maine Auto Crash

WOOLWICH, Me., Nov. 1. Police today announced no action was necessary after investigating the automobile crash in which Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins escaped injury.

Miss Perkins, accompanied by two women companions and a chauffeur, were in a head-on collision with a car driven by an unidentified man. None were seriously injured and the Perkins party continued to the secretary's summer home at Newcastle.

Storks Carry Dutch Tales of Nazi Injustice

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 1 (AP)—Boer farmers in this vicinity report some of the storks arriving here in their annual 7,000-mile migration from the Netherlands are carrying written messages on the condition of the Dutch under Nazi rule.

One farmer said he noticed this scribbled message from the leg of a migrating stork:

"We inhabitants of Bergen-op-Zoom tell you German occupation is just hell."

Another said "The Dutch people are dying under nijustice."

Step Out Toward Fortune!

WIN $10,000.00

CAN you CHECK the right answer to each of the three question-cartoons in the Check Sheet below? Read each question carefully. Then read through the suggested answers under the question. See if you can tell which is the correct answer—and then simply place a check-mark (✓) in the circle following the answer you think is right!

That, briefly, is the Game of Check! And that is how you can win $10,000.00 Cash or any other of the hundred prizes to be paid!

EASY TO ENTER TODAY!

If you're not yet in the contest, by all means mail the coupon in the lower left corner. Upon its receipt we'll send you all previous Check Sheets to date, FREE and entirely without obligation! But you must ACT FAST—because this free offer will be withdrawn soon! So don't delay—send off the coupon now!

SIX CHECK SHEETS EACH WEEK

A new Check Sheet appears each weekday during the contest—and those six Check Sheets represent that week's series. (Once you've caught up with the contest, you keep up to date by sending in each succeeding weekly series within the week following publication.) TEN CENTS IN COIN must accompany each weekly series of six Check Sheets in order to qualify your answers for a prize under the rules.

THE RULES

1—The Boston Record-American GAME OF CHECK is open to all persons living in the New England States. However, no employes of the Boston Record, the Boston American or Sunday Advertiser, members of their families, nor any newspaper dealers and carriers who deliver the Boston Record, the Boston American or Sunday Advertiser, nor any person acting as a proxy for another, nor any person who has won $500 or more in any contest, may win a prize.

2—Beginning Monday, October 14, 1940, a check sheet will be published each weekday in the Boston American and the Boston Record. Each check sheet will contain three cartoon questions. Four and only four suggested answers will be printed under each cartoon question used in the daily check sheets. One and only one of these suggested answers is the correct answer to the question appearing above. The six check sheets published during each week will constitute a series. There will be fifteen series. Answers to each week's series of cartoons should be brought or mailed to the Contest Editor, P. O. Box 2337, c/o the Boston Record-American Game of Check. Answers for each week's series should be submitted within the week after that series appears in the Boston Record and the Boston American.

3—One hundred prizes will be awarded by the Boston Record-American in accordance with the published schedule of prizes, to those 100 contestants who, by their answers, achieve the 100 highest scores. A check sheet will not be judged as a unit—each and every question will be judged separately. Thus, a contestant will get credit for each question correctly answered. No contestant may win more than one prize. Neatness does not count. Do not decorate your answers.

4—In case two or more contestants are tied for a certain prize, just what particular prize each contestant may be entitled to will be determined by submitting to each tied contestant a set of tie-breaking questions, and if necessary, a second, third, or fourth set of tie-breaking questions. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of the highest scores achieved by contestants, in accordance with the instructions and scoring regulations governing the solution of such tie-breaking questions. At the discretion of the Boston Record and the Boston American, tied contestants may be required to work the tie-breaking questions without assistance, in the offices of the Boston Record or the Boston American in case of final ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

5—In order to qualify for a prize, contestants are required to accompany each weekly series of Check Sheets with a remittance of 10¢ in cash. An individual file will be set up for each qualified contestant and each weekly set of answers duly filed therein. After the contest closes, each individual file will be duly judged.

To those contestants who complete the 15 weekly series of check sheets and who in all other ways conform to the rules of the contest, the Boston Record American will present a special quiz booklet created by Harold Hart, author of the famous quiz volume, "Invitation to Fun."

6—Any person, by entering this contest understands that it is a contest of individual effort, and agrees to abide by and accept as final the decision of the Boston Record-American on all matters affecting this contest, including among others the qualification of contestants, their disqualification at any time before or after January 27th, the closing date, for any cause deemed necessary, the application of the rules, the establishment of time limitations, the judging of answers, the scoring of answers, and the interpretation of such instructions governing individual questions as may be announced by the officials of the Contest. By entering this contest, participants agree that their answers become the property of the Boston Record-American and will not be returned.

7—Entries that are not signed by name will not be considered eligible for prizes nor will any claim to the ownership of such entries be recognized. Entries which are illegible will not be considered. Not more than one prize will be awarded to members of any one immediate family. The Boston Record-American will not be responsible for entries or communications lost or not promptly delivered either from the contestant to the Boston Record-American Contest Editor or from the Boston Record-American to the contestant.

This Check Sheet, together with the other five Check Sheets appearing from Monday, October 28, to Saturday, November 2, inclusive, should be brought or mailed to the Game of Check, P. O. Box 2337, Boston Record-American, Boston, Mass., before midnight, Saturday, November 9, together with 10¢ in coin. Contestants will receive a special Quiz Booklet at the conclusion of the Contest.

CONTEST EDITOR'S CORNER

Mark Twain once said something to the effect that most people haven't got memories—they've got forgetteries. Perhaps it's the excitement of the contest, perhaps it's I-don't-know-what, but a certain number of folks have come into the office and said that they have forgotten just what answers they checked and that they would like to see their file to make sure.

Now we have no objection at all to permitting any contestant to look over his file at any stage in the contest. This does not mean, of course, that we will permit any change of answers to be made. But we always will show a contestant his file.

Nevertheless, this procedure is definitely a bother, and a source of inconvenience to a staff that is conscientiously trying to handle the details of this contest with 100% efficiency.

I'd like to suggest to contestants, especially to those who have "forgetteries," to list the answers they send in, in a little notebook or even on a sheet of paper, and add to it every week. In this way, each contestant will have his own record of what answers he has submitted.

Catholic Federation Praises W. R. Hearst

CHICAGO, Nov. 1—Commendation of William Randolph Hearst and his newspapers for their fight against Communism and for upholding the ideals of patriotism and Americanism was set forth in a resolution Monday by the Lithuanian Roman Catholic Federation in America as the group concluded its midwest conference here.

In another resolution the 500 delegates, representing almost a million American Catholics, denounced the illegal absorption of Lithuania by Soviet Russia and demanded that the Communist party and all alien reds be outlawed in the United States.

The first resolution declared:

"Whereas, the Hon. William Randolph Hearst, personally and through the powerful influence of his newspapers, was militantly fought for the integrity of the Constitution of the United States and has valiantly battled against Communism and those subversive influences and atheistic concepts which seek to undermine the American principles of government, the democracy of small nations and belief in God, be it therefore

"Resolved, by the Midwest Conference of the Lithuanian Roman Catholic Federation in America, that we commend the Hon. William Randolph Hearst and his newspapers for their patriotism, their loyalty, their Americanism and their outstanding fight against Communism, and again pledge our suport to those ideals."

DEMOCRACY IN PERIL

In the second resolution it was declared in part:

"Whereas, the Communist party and al alien reds, with their godless newspapers and by their fifth columnist activity, are striving to undermine the true principles of democracy in the United States, be it therefore

"Resolved, that we denounce Communism and all other subversive isms and the Soviet occupation of the Republic of Lithuania, and that we again demand that the Communist party, with its red newspapers and other literature, be outlawed in the United States now, so that Asiatic -Communism would never take seed here."

TELLS OF INVASION

The resolutions were introduced by Editor Leonard Shimutis of the Lithuanian Daily Draugus, president of the Alliance, and adopted unanimously.

They were signed by members of the resolutions committee, Dr. Alexander Rackus, Dr. Peter Atkociunas, Anthony Bacevicius, Anthony Skirius and Mr. Brone Pivariunas, and the chairman of the meeting, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael L. Kruszas and the Rev. Anastasius Valancius.

A report of how Red Russia occupied Lithuania was given by Atty. Stasys Gabaliauskas, a refugee who lived in Kaunas, the capital city during the invasion.

SIGN DEFENSE FAILS

Judge, police and spectators in Roxbury District Court were all slightly dizzy today after Robert Lee Owen, 24, deaf mute, had been found guilty of attempted larceny, an interpreter had translated his defense, and a deaf and dumb friend of Owen's had joined in the sign language conversation.

Such finger wagging at high speed had never been seen in Roxbury court before and the general wish was that it wouldn't occur again.

Owen was in court on two charges, being a transient vendor and attempted larceny from a desk in Harvard Medical School.

He pleaded guilty to the first charge and not guilty to the second, through the finger wagging services of Ralph Austin of Dean st., Dorchester, who translated Owen's "remarks" to Judge Frankland W. L. Miles.

Juliette Custo, secretary at the medical school, testified she caught Owen rummaging in a desk where $90 was concealed.

Owen then started to vehemently deny everything, via his fingers, and to complicate matters a deaf mute friend of his rose in the rear of the court room and began a frantic wig-wagging.

"What on earth is he talking about," asked Judge Miles, and the interpreter declared, "Your Honor, he's just saying the defendant's clothes are in a motor car up the street."

"Well, tell him to keep quiet," said the judge, and then proceeded to find Owen guilty and continue the case until Nov. 12 for disposition.

12 False Alarm Ringers Caught

Halloween temptations spelled nothing but trouble for a gang of 12 false alarm ringers—ages 8 to 10—who were caught by special officers in Roxbury in the very act of boosting each other up to fire boxes.

The 12 will be in juvenile court, and today, under questioning of police, they admitted ringing a total of 32 false alarms in the Roxbury district during the past two months.

Their arrests were the only bright spot in the harassed lives of Roxbury police, who found Halloween celebrants had broken 50 gas lamps and 25 arc lights as well as ringing in nine false alarms in one district.

In Brighton, Halloween was even livelier with 108 gas lamps and 12 arc lamps shattered.

$533,180 GREEN TAX FOR STATE

Massachusetts taxpayers had a little matter of $533,180 to cheer about today.

The money is the unexpected amount from the estate of Col. Edward H. Green over the $4,750,000 the Commonwealth figured to collect in inheritance taxes.

Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long announced the state's share at $5,243,180 from the $37,000,000 estate.

The increase may mean a difference of 30 cents per $1000 in the 1941 real estate valuations.

"The announcement is extremely gratifying," said Atty. Gen. Paul A. Dever, Democratic candidate for governor.

"According to Mr. Long's figure the total inheritance figures of this State which were obtained as a result of a victory of the attorney general's office in the United States Supreme Court are equal to a total reduction of more than $1.50 per $1000 valuation in local taxes."

FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF DRAFTEES REMEMBER THIS

President Wilson Pledges Self to Keep America Out of War; But AFTER ELECTION Conscriptees went into Trenches

FOR OBVIOUS POLITICAL REASONS, the Roosevelt administration is soft pedaling the real nature of the draft for which numbers have just been drawn.

Out of Washington have come soothing assurances, from half a dozen New Deal officials including the President and his draft director, Dr. Clarence Dykstra.

The tune and the tone are the same in each case. The words run something like this:

"Don't be alarmed, little draftee, Uncle Sam is not going to hurt you; your chance of being called for military service is only one in 20; almost any old excuse will give you deferred status; and, if through the mischance of a lottery, you are called for military 'training' it is only for a year and you never really will be asked to face bullets, shells or bombs."

All of which, of course, is a fraud, a deliberate effort to deceive—until AFTER the election.

Let the prospective draftee consider these facts:

Congress voted a limitation on the number to be drafted but Congress gave ample evidence that this limit was imposed only for electioneering purposes.

Congress, as evidenced by speeches and votes, was afraid to adopt an all-out draft until the danger of retribution at the polls from draftees and their families had passed.

But when Congress reconvenes AFTER ELECTION, if the New Deal is still in control, the only limit will be the limit of available cannon fodder in the United States.

Congress voted what looked like a one year limit on the time a draftee can be held in the military service.

ACTUALLY, however, he can be held FIVE YEARS in peace time at the whim of the President, who has only to declare another of his unending "emergencies" to expand that one year into five years.

In case of war, the draftee is "IN FOR THE DURATION" and who can doubt that, before the first draftees have finished their first year of training, President Roosevelt, if elected, will have involved the nation in the war he has been busily fomenting for the last three years?

A word, then, to prospective draftees.

If the President and the incumbent Congress are returned to power next Tuesday, make up your minds you are going into the army MUCH SOONER than you have been led to believe and that you will remain there MUCH LONGER than 12 months.

LIKE ACORNS that eventually become giant oaks, inconspicuous items in the Congressional Record often presage mighty happenings.

Such, perhaps, is the information in the Record's October 21th issue that the United States Army is making a survey of the nation's casket industry.

Senator Holt says he inquired WHY and was told by Major Ginsburgh:

"After all, if you have a million men under arms, even in peacetime, you are going to have some casualties. Some men are going to fall off trucks and have other accidents and illnesses."

In the same edition of the Congressional Record there is a reference to a New York newspaper article which reports the sale of the ocean-going liner Roosevelt and the impending transfer of five other large vessels to the Army to be used as TROOP SHIPS.

None of these ships could sail up or down the Mississippi or float successfully on other domestic rivers.

BUT THEY COULD TAKE AMERICAN BOYS TO ENGLAND OR TO CHINA!

Senator Holt, therefore, declares:

"If we are to have war, let the American people know the truth.

"We know that a survey for caskets is not for men falling off trucks.

"We had better give them a course in how to ride trucks so that they will not fall off.

"We know WHY caskets are to be bought.

"We know WHY troop ships are to be bought.

"TROOP SHIPS AND CASKETS DO NOT MEAN PEACE."

Millions of other Americans are thinking the same thing.

AS INCESSANT and pointless conversationalists women are supposed to be the worst offenders. But I heard a man in a lounge car talk steadily for two hours and say practically nothing. As George Eliot observed: "Blessed is the man who, having nothing to say, abstains from giving us wordy evidence of the fact" . . . Britain has spent 56 per cent of its history at war, France 50 per cent, Russia 46 per cent, Italy 36 per cent and Germany 28 per cent.

HOW DO YOU pronounce "hors d'oeuvre?" May be easy for you but to many it presents a problem. Why not give the gastronomic overture an easier to pronounce name? . . . On the Island of Yap, natives have a stone coin weighing 100 pounds. This coin will buy a quarter of acre of land, 10,000 cocoanuts, an 18-foot canoe or a wife. Imagine going into a store where they retail wives, slamming down a 100-pound coin and saying: "I'll take that tall blonde sitting over there in the corner" . . . Napoleon said; "To conquer is nothing. It is necessary to profit by success." At the moment it would seem Hitler is trying to cash in on his conquest. Der Fuehrer wants peace at what he claims to be a fair price . . . As my good friend Dr. Harry Martin of Hollywood has pointed out to many of his celebrated film colony patients, each case of dieting for weight reduction is an individual problem. What is a good diet for one may be poison for another. So, sir, if your wife is contemplating slimming her frame by the diet method make her seek the proper advice. The country is full of nervous women made that way by wrong weight reduction diets.

RIGGS RESTAURANT in Cincinnati made money by taking a profit of one cent a meal. The Clifton Cafeteria, Los Angeles, is making money taking a profit of one-half a cent a meal . . . "Why are all girls named Ann so easy to look at?" asks a Californian. "There's Ann Harding, Ann Sheridan and Ann Sothern for instance." We have not the answer to this query in our files. Who knows? . . . Clifton Fadiman of the "Information Please" program says the most intelligent woman to appear on that program so far is Gracie Allen. Which is just another warning to us boys to watch out for the woman who acts dumb. She usually, as in the case of Miss Allen, knows all the answers.

IN CHICAGO flat rates are made for blessed events, according to Joe Shapiro. "I accepted a flat rate of $137.50 for a blessed event," says Joe. "The doctor delivered twin boys. He said if he had known it was going to be twins it would have been more and that hereafter he was going to make provisions for a double feature blessed event when making a flat rate in advance."

MY DAY

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Nov. 1—The farm house in which the Cutters live in Limerick, Maine, is over a hundred years old and they have had to modernize it in many ways. However, one thing about it is not modern and I like it. Instead of a small bathroom where you could not "swing a cat" I took my bath and dressed Wednesday morning in a room with an open fireplace. Do you know anything more luxurious than that?

We had listened the night before to Mr. Joseph Kennedy's speech. Everybody on the farm had done a good day's work, and we had spent a long day motoring, so we retired to nine good solid hours of sleep.

After shaking hands with the nice Maine men who are working on an addition to the barn, we left Limerick Wednesday morning to motor to Colby College, Waterville, Maine. Mrs. Cutter drove out to the nearest crossroads to introduce us to two of her neighbors and then we were on our way.

EVERYTHING went smoothly until just before we hit Waterville, where we crossed a small bridge and looked for a police escort which we were told would be on hand to meet us. We saw none, but a car stopped ahead and a nice young man got out and looked around with curiosity.

We thought he might be looking for us, so we drove up beside him and asked. He disclaimed any interest in us, but did tell us how to get to the next bridge, where our police escort would probably be waiting.

Sure enough, when we crossed the bridge, the police car started out ahead of us and we reached President Johnson's house a little after 12 o'clock. President and Mrs. Johnson have been most kind and cordial, though their lives have been complicated by the endless telegrams and telephone calls which have followed us.

Colby College is an old college and though it originally owned a great deal of land, a right of way was given to the railroad straight through the campus. This now makes for many difficulties. The citizens of Waterville have given the college a new and very lovely site on Mayflower Hill. Some of the buildings are already up and are delightful.

We enjoyed a small luncheon with President and Mrs. Johnson and the visit to the new campus, and then a reception was held for an hour and a half. Many children came in and one little boy, I am sure, will some day be a really good organizer. He kept bringing up his classmates and as he introduced them he said: "This is Mary Jones, she is in the first grade." Then he would push her on and go to fetch others.

We left Waterville at 7:30 yesterday morning and drove through the lovely northern part of Maine and New Hampshire, coming down into Massachusetts to spend the night at Deerfield.

SID SILVERS SEES FUTURE FOR BAER

Sid Silvers

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Max Baer, who is rehearsing with Sid Silvers for their roles in the forthcoming musical, "H'ya Gentlemen," read his lines for the first time and Silvers complimented him . . . "I've been in the theater more than 15 years," said the short, pudgy Silvers, "and I'm going to teach you everything I know. You're going to be a great comedian. I'm going to make you the biggest star on Broadway" . . . "Yeah," Baer returned, patting the diminutive Silvers, "and I'm going to make you the world's heavyweight champion."

CHATTER: Norman Bel Geddes has flown to Florida to prepare for a new job. He's going to streamline the Ringling Bros.' circus . . . James Joyce, author of "Ulysses," has been requested to leave occupied France by the Vichy government. He's going to Switzerland . . . Arch Oboler, who was to fly to N. Y. for the premiere of his "Escape" and the Joan Crawford broadcast which he wrote, canceled his trip. Just as he boarded the plane he was notified that the broadcast was canceled, because the time was needed for political speeches . . . Huntington Hartford became a theatrical producer this week, opening offices in the Sardi Building.

NORMA SHEARER

LAMENT—Norma Shearer was given free rein during the making of "Escape." After viewing some rushes, she'd decide that the picture would be improved if she'd played the scene a different way and so retakes were made . . . When other problems arose, Miss Shearer would do the same thing—trying both ways just to be sure . . . After the movie finally was completed and placed in a can for shipment to N. Y., the producer received a phone call. "Miss Shearer calling" was the message. He turned to an aide, who held the completed movie in his hands. "Tell Miss Shearer," the aide suggested, "that we just can't do it in Technicolor."

PARTY: Edward Robinson tendered a party in honor of U. S. Senator Pepper of Florida at his home last week. The invitation read: "From 5 to 8 p. m." . . . Dore Schary, the Academy Award winner, was invited. He was scheduled to broadcast at 6:30, and so he arrived at the party early, at 5 p. m. He found that none of his friends had arrived—not even the host. Two men were in the living room, and Schary introduced himself to them. He discussed the political situation, Hollywood, art—and then decided to see Robinson's collection of paintings. The men nodded and followed him, while he viewed the $250,000 collection. They followed him until he left . . . The next day Schary learned their identity—detectives hired to guard the paintings.

QUIZ: George Jessel insists that he's not doing any broadcasting now, because of the popularity of the Quiz programs . . . "I heard one that was too tough for me," Jessel confessed. "First they ask: 'What's your name?' and when you tell them the announcer says: 'That's worth $2' . . . Then the announcer says: 'And now comes the real tough question. Double or nothing—'Where do you live?' "

WARNING: Sam Levene, directing and appearing in the new Spewack play which Max Gordon is producing, telephoned Gordon's home at 1 a. m. for some information. The producer, who had been asleep, yawned his replies . . . Levene asked him before hanging up: "I hope you didn't mind my waking you" . . . "Not at all, not at all," Gordon assured, "but you've got two strikes against you now."

APPEAL: Clifford Odets and Luther Adler, both now in Hollywood, went to see "City for Conquest" . . . "I thought Ann Sheridan did a good job," Adler later told the playwright . . . "I liked the whole picture," Odets stated, "but I think Ann Sheridan is very plain looking" . . . "Sheridan plain looking? You don't know what you're talking about," said Luther . . . "She doesn't look like an actress," Odets insisted. "She looks like a piano teacher" . . . "You're blind," said Adler. "With her looks and sex appeal she should be a piano teacher?" . . . "Yes, just that," said Odets, "—and then she could come up to my house and give me lessons."

EXCLUSIVE: Joe Kennedy's resignation becomes effective "as of" November 6 . . . But the announcement may be deferred.

FIRST AL SMITH AND THEN GENE AUTRY were quick-stepped through the foyer of the Copley-Plaza to preserve them from the wear and tear of autograph hounds . . . Both were in costume, Al wearing one of those patented Smith skimmers, and Gene wearing corduroy tights and spangles.

THE AUTRYS—GENE AND HIS WIFE—were in tow of Dave Whalen, the Boston lad who was forced to go to New York to win prosperity and a reputation as a press-agent . . . He came back last night, a prophet with honor in his own town—on account of being connected with a star.

YOUNG KEENAN WYNN TOOK the words out of this column's mouth when he acknowledged before a throng on Halloween celebrants at the Cocoanut Grove that Mickey Alpert's party to the cast of "The White Haired Boy" was indeed a "Consolation Party" . . . The show closes Saturday . . . The whole cast, however, was playing Pagliacci for the paying guests . . . You would never know that they faced the dispiriting job of trotting from one theatrical office to another come Monday—in search of jobs (which don't exist).

PRODUCER GEORGE ABBOTT'S daughter, Judy, was at the Grove party . . . She is charming . . . So was Sonya Stokowski, daughter of Leopold Stokowski, among those present . . . These two, with Mr. Wynn, comprise a trio of offspring of famous parents who group views in af eature story might be very interesting . . . A discovery of unexpected talent came about by reason of this latest "theatrical guest night" . . . Handsome John Lodge, of the Boston Lodges, is an excellent master of ceremonies.

It will be something to fall back on if he strikes a few flop plays.

WILLIAM SAROYAN GIVES FURTHER proof that double-talk will never tke the place of plain English in a Gertrude Steinish essay of amazing crudeness in the current Variety . . . In Variety, Milton Berle says that Romo Vincent (who comes to the Mayfair next Wednesday) is sure that he is adding pounds to his normal 260 . . . When Romo passed by a drugstore, says Mr. Berle, the scale walked inside.

THERE ARE some good jokes, too, in Milton's column, which is nearly always entertaining . . . There is, moreover, an interesting anecdote about a bit of dialogue between J. Fred Coots, the song writer, and Harry Link, the song publisher.

FREDDIE WAS TRYING TO sell Mr. Link a new Coots song entitled, "There's An Old Coal Stove in the Parlor" . . . Mr. Link is supposed to have asked: "Who has coal stoves these days?" . . . Mr. Coots replied: "The same people who have spinning wheels" . . . Irene Bayne, one of the district's outstanding bridge players, sends word that tomorrow night's special bridge duplicate of the Cavendish Club, Commonwealth ave., will be held in aid of the British Ambulance Corps.

POWER TO CO-STAR WITH GRABLE

By Louella O. Parsons

Ty Power

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1—Tonight's the big night for Ty Power who is appearing personally with "The Mark of Zorro" before the home folks in Cincinnati, with previews being held in Hollywood and New York. But just as Tyrone scores in his most swash-buckling role comes word that he'll go modern again as the star of "The Great American Broadcast" with Betty Grable as his vis-a-vis. This completes Power's next year's schedule for 20th Century-Fox with "Blood and Sand," "Down to the Sea in Ships" and the big radio picture now lined up for him.

Since both "Blood and Sand" and "Down to the Sea in Ships" are both more or less costume stories, I think Zanuck is wise in sandwiching in a modern yarn for the popular Tyrone. Don't be surprised, either, if Kate Smith and her entire troupe are transported to Hollywood to appear in "The Great American Broadcast." She'll be on the coast around Nov. 22 to talk about this picture, a cavalcade of radio, which will feature the biggest stars on the air.

FRITZ FELD isn't superstitious about postponing a wedding even when it's his own. When Ernst Lubitsch offered him the comedy role in "That Uncertain Feeling," Feld was all for turning it down on account of he's scheduled to get married this Sunday to Virginia Kraft. "I'll be good a deal" bargained the wily Lubitsch, who is always that way. "You work in my picture. I'll be best man at your wedding 10 days from now" P. S. Lubitsch won—and now the Feld-Kraft nuptials are scheduled for after the 15th of November.

HEDY LAMARR, whose devotion to her little adopted son, Jammie, is one of the very sweetest things about her, is the good fairy who paid to keep "Nobody's Children" on the air when they felt that they could no longer afford to maintain it. It is connected to Walter White each week from the orphanage where Hedy got her baby, and it has done immeasurable good in finding homes for homeless waifs. When Hedy learned that the program was to be discontinued because of lack of funds, she immediately got in touch with radio officials and sent a check guaranteeing another 13 weeks. The amount was in four figures and since Hedy is probably getting the smallest salary of any of the glamour stars in the film colony, this was a big sacrifice for her.

JUST BEFORE we left New York Joan Crawford telephoned me at the hotel. Never thought a staunch Hollywoodian like Joan would rave so about New York. She is living in the country and maintains an apartment in town. Joan says her baby grows cuter by the minute. Unless she hears to the contrary, she will be in Hollywood in 10 days to make tests for "A Woman's Face" her next picture. And for the first time in her life Joan is not eager to return to work!

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD AND NEW YORK: I now this is where we all came in—but the Jimmy Stewart-Liz Whitney romance is hotter than ever. Jimmy's New York at the Pierre and Bruce is expected soon. It wouldn't surprise friends if they marry. Adrian's Randall, who was in New York last week, was at the House of Murphy last night with Pat Gardner, the model. Her jeweled turbans are the talk of Hollywood. Bob Cobb is planing out to New York and Chicago on a two or three-week jaunt hoping to forget his rift with Gail Patrick.

'Hate' Campaign Reveals Itself

(Provided by the Democratic National Committee)

One of the unfortunate by-products of the Presidential race is the malicious and frenzied character of the Hate Roosevelt campaign.

Four years ago it was intense. This year it has burst out of the underground pipes and drains, which normally carry such pollution, into the open.

President Roosevelt

The Republicans in Pennsylvania plastered the State with billboards urging the public to "save the church—vote the straight Republican ticket."

Seven ministers of the Gospel, some of them Republicans, immediately denounced this foul and sinister attempt to drag religion through the backdoor into the mire of dirty politics.

These clergymen performed a noteworthy public service. The Republicans made frantic efforts to hide their guilt but they could NOT dodge responsibility. Literally dozens of similar episodes have come to light.

The fact is that the Republican National Committee has encouraged and inflamed this sort of campaigning. From the beginning, it has trundled out bales of literature charging the Administration with harboring alien influences and seeking to destroy America.

BROWDER AND WILLKIE

One Republican document listed Earl Browder, top man of the Communists, among those supporting President Roosevelt for re-election. False of course.

Browder was convicted and sentenced to jail by the federal government for falsifying his passport. He charged the Roosevelt Administration was railroading him for political purposes. Wendell Willkie practically said the same thing.

In an article published in the New Republic, Willkie questioned whether Browder was convicted because he violated the law or because he "was a Communist Party member."

In the same article, Willkie questioned the motive behind the conviction of Fritz Kuhn, New York Bund member, who was prosecuted by Thomas E. Dewey, a Republican.

Dewey was then leading candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination and Willkie was a rival. It was good strategy to knock down Dewey, if he could.

But how can Willkie's defense of Browder be reconciled with the literature put out by the Republican National Committee?

FLYNN SUMS UP

In a recent address Chairman Edward J. Flynn of the Democratic National Committee summed up just a small part of the undercover campaign against the President. He said:

"A flood of scurrilous literature prepared by high-powered character assassins attacking President Roosevelt and his family is pouring over the nation on a scale unknown, perhaps, since Lincoln's time.

"The financial floodgates have been opened and the country is deluged with literally millions of copies of the most unfair, unscrupulous and vicious pamphlets ever circulated in this 'Hate Roosevelt' campaign. Every possible appeal to hatred, bigotry and intolerance is included in this stream of muddy poison propaganda.

"The President is openly called a 'Dictator' and his administration is described as the 'Fifth Column.' In some of these screeds he is likened to Hitler, Stalin and most bloody tryants of history. One of these links him with Brutus and Benedict Arnold. Apparently no lie is too gross or malicious for circulation, including the charge that he is a traitor to his country."

A TOLERANT MAN

There is no way to curb or halt this poisonous stream. Its purpose is to inflame the deepest emotions and passions.

This stuff is circulated against a President who ranks with Lincoln as one of the great humanitarians of modern times. The purpose of this stuff is to defame one of the most tolerant men who ever sat in the White House.

This undercover campaign, like all similar campaigns, will defeat itself.

The Republican Party dragged in a religious issue once before—to its eternal shame. But the man who was its chief beneficiary, Mr. Hoover, failed to have much luck in the White House. He was likewise a "businessman," just like the present nominee of the Republicans.

The hasty action of the Pennsylvania gang in pulling down its offensive billboards about "saving the church" failed to impress. High-minded clergymen continue to denounce this despicable practice. The result has been a new tide of voters to President Roosevelt.

War Fear Uniting Nation Against Third Term

(Provided by the National Committee of Democrats-for-Willkie)

The fear that under Mr. Roosevelt we are drifting toward war and some form of dictatorship is uniting the American people in a common effort to protect themselves and their children against these evils.

The national unity for which Wendell Willkie is earnestly crusading becomes a more solid unity day by day as the people realize the dangers to our nation in Mr. Roosevelt's grasp for continued power.

Joining together "for the common defense" are millions of Americans —Democrats and Republicans, citizens of various racial strains, labor and employers of labor, communicants of different faiths. As Americans who cherish democracy, who are determined that their sons will not fight on foreign soil, they stand shoulder to shoulder against the so-called "indispensable man" in the White House.

They know that his impulsive nature is fraught with peril to us all in these hours of world crisis. They know he has failed to build up our defenses to the point of safety despite his eight years of unprecedented authority. And they know what power and still more power does to the mind of any man, no matter how plausible or well intentioned he may be.

One of the most convincing indictments of Mr. Roosevelt's Third Term grab was reprinted in this column recently—the statement of Father James M. Gillis, known to millions as a radio speaker on "The Catholic Hour" and as editor of "The Catholic World."

Like hundreds of clergymen of every faith, Father Gillis knows the menace to religion and education in UNdemocratic forms of government.

Like millions of his fellow citizens, he knows the peril of war which an impulsive handling of our foreign relations can bring to us.

And like every well-informed American, he knows we are unprepared for war.

Commenting on Father Gillis' eloquent plea to his fellow Americans to refuse Mr. Roosevelt a Third Term, the "Tablet," Catholic weekly of the Diocese of Brooklyn, said this on Sunday:

"Father Gillis was never one to pussyfoot. He has always been rugged in his convictions and fearless in expressing them. Few men hold the respect of Catholic and non-Catholic alike for culture, erudition, directness of speech, sincerity, and for courage as does Father Gillis. His words must have a tremendous effect upon public opinion at this crucial time in our nation's history.

"Dictatorship is in the air. The lust for power is running high among those in control of the forces of government everywhere. This is the age of would-be supermen. The whole nature of American democracy is opposed to any such ideas.

"Our nation is founded on the principle of diffusion of political power as against concentration of political power. As we have stated here more than a year ago, a third term for any President tends to destroy the democratic ideal of diffusion of power and to build up the totalitarian ideal of concentration of power in the hands of one all-powerful man.

"With respect to the further issue of war or peace, which Father Gillis discusses so ably, the popular will to peace can best be maintained when power is diffused. It can be ruthlessly disregarded if the decision between war and peace is placed in the hands of any one man, especially when that man's will is unpredictable.

"In line with our opposition to a third term expressed a year before the Democratic convention in Chicago, the words of Father Gillis represent our convictions and have our endorsement. But, above all, they have our unstinted admiration for the courage, sincerity, and the timeliness of their expression."

Every loyal, patriotic American—whatever his faith—can say "Amen" to this. And we think that on November 5 the united voice of those who believe in peace and democracy for our land will register an emphatic "NO" to Mr. Roosevelt's grasp for a Third Term.

For the American people know that:

ROOSEVELT+THIRD TERM=WAR

WILLKIE+NATIONAL DEFENSE=PEACE

FRANCES WELD[illegible] have a life [illegible] to sisters, brothers and cousins . . . for she's a [illegible] aristocrat Saltonstall clan and has enough distinguished relatives to make a gay company of dinner guests . . .

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Weld (Katharine Saltonstall) of Hastings-on-Hudson, she is only a New Yorker by adoption . . . and has come back to Beantown to make her formal debut . . . She is visiting her newlyr-married sister, Katharine Weld Bacon (Mrs. William B.) of The Riverway, and is being presented this evening at a dinner dance given by her parents . . .

The party is taking place in the beautiful Bulfinch ballroom in the former Ronald Lyman mansion on Beacon st., which is now a part of the Women's City Club . . . This is the first debutante party to take place in the ballroom since the house became the property of the club, but many a brilliant party took place there during the Lymans' occupancy of the mansion . . .

The debutante is a granddaughter of two prominent Boston matrons, Mrs. Stephen B. Weld and Mrs. Joel Goldthwaite, and her sisters are Mrs. Samuel Wolcott, Jr., of Milton, Mrs. Robert Whitney and Mrs. Ian Baldwin of New York, and Mrs. Bacon, who is a daughter-in-law of former Lt. Governor and Mrs. Gaspar Bacon of Jamaica Plain . . . Her brother, Philip, Jr., married the former Anne Warren of Boston . . .

For her debut gown Frances has chosen an exquisite model of white lace traced with silver lame . . . A number of the season's prominent debutantes and a stalwart group of Harvardians will attend the party and dance into the wee small hours to the strains of Harry Marshard's music . . .

MRS. OLIVER RICKETSON, Jr., and Miss Rosamond Coolidge discuss plans for the annual dance to benefit the Cambridge League of Women Voters, to be held Nov. 9 at the Continental Hotel.

Molly Chase Makes Debut

TEAS, DINNER AND DANCES provide a merry round of partying for the debutantes celebrating the eve of the Harvard-Princeton game . . .

Molly Chase steps into the social spotlight at the debut tea which her mother, Mrs. Frederick Chase of Milton, is giving for her this afternoon . . . The Chase home is decorated with chrysanthemums in varying shades of pink and the debutante is receiving in an afternoon gown of pale blue silk trimmed with touches of black velvet . . . Her corsage is of Joanna Hill roses . . .

Mrs. Chase has chosen a gown of dahlia red velvet . . . The debutante pourers include Sally Cole and Marguerite Hall who were classmates of Molly's at Abbott Academy . . . Also post debs Ann Campbell, Marcella Darling, Cary Ware, Joan Webster and Judy Goodwin . . . Molly is combining her debutante activities with studies at Pine Manor Junior College . . .

Cynthia Reece Honored

WHITE TULLE, made with a full skirt sprinkled with tiny ermine tails, fashions the beautiful gown in which Cynthia Reece is making her debut at The Country Club this evening . . .

The debutante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Reece of Chestnut Hill, is receiving with her mother, who is wearing dusty pink lace made with a bouffant skirt and enhanced by a corsage of brown orchids . . . Instead of carrying flowers Cynthia is carrying a white tulle muff scattered with ermine tails to match her gown . . .

John B. Reece, the debutante's brother heads the large usher staff and will be a guest at the ushers' dinner which precedes the dance . . . Among the feminine guests will be Amabel Eshleman, Genevra Hobbs, Elizabeth Reece, Sally Ann Wing, Martha Sabine, Sally Reed, Betty Breed, Polly Curtis, Polly Faulkner, Cordelia Galt, Eleanor Trumbull, Martha Turner, Elizabeth Sweetser and Mrs. Franklin Reece, Jr. . . .

Before the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Vassar Pierce of Milton are giving a dinner party with an Hawaiian motif in honor of their attractive blonde daughter, Dagmar Pierce, whose guests will include Jane Thomson of Cincinnati who is visiting her for the wee-end, Alice Hurd, Frances Byers, Harriett W. Moffat, Anne Lyman, Mary Whittier, Christina Baker, [illegible]man and Eric Pierce, John Peabody, Charles Cole, Stanwood Wellington, John Blake, Hatheily Foster, Jr., John Allyn, Robert Albers, Rullison Knox, 3d, Samuel Reed and Francois de Chadenes.

CHAPLIN'S 'DICTATOR' HAILED AS MASTERFUL PORTRAYAL

Tops All His Previous Hits

By PEGGY DOYLE

The little tramp with the derby, trick mustache, baggy trousers, outsize shoes and endearing traits is no more, and, for the first time on the screen, the timid inarticulate little fellow has his say.

He can't be nobody but Charlie Chaplin, producer, director, comedian and star of "The Great Dictator," showing this week at Loew's State and Orpheum theaters, yesterday.

In New York, where it was given a big khaki-and-roses critical reception three weeks ago and continues to do what variety calls "terrific" business at the Astor and Capitol theaters, there has been considerable controversy about this speech the little barber makes at the ending.

Whether or not you approve the speech, a bravely defiant plea for the Allied cause which was hearty applauded by the Orpheum audience, there can be no question that the great Chaplin has never before equaled this tragic comic caricature of Hitler.

It is a masterful achievement—the dramatic salute to Adenoid Napoleon—and best of all, the picture makes it by comedy means which is why double-talk was born. Interspersing the Brit explosive gut-ease and couple tragedy, you catch something that sounds like "Democratic statesmanship" and you get a few personal close-up of the ingratiating moments which have been causing nations off the map like quick marks off a blackboard.

Spoofing Hitler is one thing. Getting the screen's classic tramp to say in mankind's name, shakes a fist at the gods to make the Fuehrer a Phooey to Freedom is something else. Tough and the comedy of the Nazi business is funny. Actually, he is exposing the man and the system as the most influence on modern civilization.

I suppose the better the caricature, the greater the satire, who wants only to keep on shaving, and keep his elongated shoes into the burning arms of Adenoid Hynkel the tyrannical dictator of Tomania, evil, he talks, becomes a greater chaplin than ever before.

Stirring Sea Drama Unfolds on Keith Memorial Screen

Morality Film At Gayety

Gayety Theater today inaugurates a new policy of "different" double features, with "Thou Shalt Not Wed," expose of the quack doctor racket, and "Sailor's Lady," co-starring Jon Hall and Nancy Kelly.

Phyllis Barrie is the star of "Thou Shalt Not Wed," morality play adapted by Upton Sinclair from a powerful social evil drama by the great French dramatist, Eugene Brieux.

'Long Voyage Home' Is Great

By JOYCE DANA

Eugene O'Neill and John Ford, who must love the sea passionately and know it intimately, have made in "The Long Voyage Home" a picture so hauntingly beautiful, so strong in truth and so lusty in drama that it stands as a glorious and shining tribute to film history. It is at the Keith Memorial, along with "A Little Bit of Heaven," and you can accordingly choose your own Paradise.

The four O'Neill plays which screen writer Dudley Nichols has so eloquently brought up to headline happenings and welded into a magnificent whole are "The Moon of the Caribbees," "Bound East for Cardiff," "In the Zone" and "The Long Voyage Home." They are stories of the tramp steamer Glencairn, bound from the West Indies for England.

Against the vast background of the sea itself, in sunlight and storm, in peaceful waters and ports, through the war zone with unseen enemy planes zooming low and spitting death, the Glencairn, its hold loaded with munitions, is the background for a dozen dramas. And each one of them is so forthrightly and brilliantly played that the long journey is utterly absorbing from the moment the "lime-boat" girls of the Caribbean waterfront come aboard for a night's revelry to the very end.

There is no single star, and no one performance that overshadows the elemental grandeur of the film itself. Every portrait, from Thomas Mitchell's hearty, brawling Irish seaman, to Mildred Natwick's limehouse honky-tonk girl is an inspired one. There is Ian Hunter's English gentleman, suspected, when nerves are taut, of being a spy, when his only crime is seeking forgetfulness in whiskey. Revue Delights RKO Boston Fans

By DON WARD

Paris in the spring may not be what it used to be, but the "Streets of Paris," which transforms the RKO Boston stage into a replica of the boulevards, recaptures the gayety of the good old days and provides another sockeroo show for foreign fans.

Tacie is first and foremost "Tums A Drink" Hoffman. And if there's a beverage you can dream up, the obliging Mons. Hoffman can dish it out. Ask the front row customers. From an innocuous pitcher of water he can serve you up everything from a glass of milk to a Ward Eight.

The cute little Hyton sisters, all three (and Boston can take a bow for them) harmonize just as delightfully. And pinch-hitting in the Abbott and Costello spots are Sid Marion and Cliff Hall, going through the riotous scene in the doctor's office, coming off the boat and running foul of the law, and other sure-fire hits and bits.

Crowding all the other headliners for honors are the two Hubert boys, whose bit of comic magic is their acrobatic drunk scene.

Early buds lovet the behind-the-scenes glimpse of the luscious little girls who keep the big show a constant joy to behold, and both Petch and Deauville in acrobatic dancing and Ernest and Talida in their red hot rhumba scored with the fans. It's all gorgeous and colorful—and the drinks are on the house.

Cesar Romero is the romantic desperado in the title role of "The Gay Caballero," which is the screen feature.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Friday, Nov. 1

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You are sincere, ambitious, quick in an emergency to sense the right thing to do and (what's more important) to DO it! Willing to work very hard toward a goal. But you are not as consistent as you should be. Also, you should be less forceful in desires and opinions. Have talent for music. Sacrifice some leisure now and you will enjoy more of it later. Activity is in the air! Let past experiences help to guide you now.

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 69.

LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is jade.

Send 13 cents and large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston Evening American, Box 2228, Boston, for an individual horoscope, personal guide and lucky calendar for the last six months of 1940, giving the day and month you were born.

You Can Be Beautiful

New 'Piping Red' Lipstick

By ARLINE GOULD

WITH SO many new lipstick colors simply flooding the town, it's more fun yet more difficult to find exactly what you want . . . a shade which will give your complexion a certain something, and look smart to the girls you know, but enticing to the men you know!

You may have given up the quest of a really flattering dark tint . . . unless you're a deep brunette, for whom all such lush tints are heaven decreed, so here is news.

There's a new "piping red" lipstick in town that is one of the deepest deep reds we've seen yet has at the same time a velvet quality about it that's marvelously flattering to complexions which ordinarily couldn't "take" a darker lipstick.

For one thing it has one color trick you'll appreciate, since you're trying these days to look as fair and sheltered as a Bronte heroine, like the mysterious mistress of Wildfell Hall for whom Mr. Gilbert Markham fell so hard . . . At any rate, this new "piping red" with its wizardry banishes any trace of summer tan, and if your skin is fair already makes it look even more fair and shell-like.

We should also mention that this shade has a particular affinity for the rich tones of autumn woollens . . . striking with dark-background plaids, marvelous with tweeds. And regal with your black crepes.

If you'd like to learn all about this unusual new "piping red" lipstick, phone Arline Gould, Liberty 4000, week-days except Saturday, or write, care of the Record, Boston, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Conversation Tip

Don't be a Calamity Jane or a Calamity John. When you talk, don't talk about your troubles or your symptoms or your operation. —MRS. BEECKMAN.

White Gown O. K.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN,

Is it proper to wear white evening gowns all the year round, or just for summer-time? S. A.

It is proper to wear a white evening gown at any season of the year. Even materials that we used to consider limited to summer are now fashionable in all seasons. Chiffon, for example, and net.

Fried Chicken Time

By MARTHA LEE

No matter how many times chicken is served to the family, everyone will say at one time or another, "I've never had enough chicken." So why not serve it more often? If you have been neglecting fried chicken in your menus we want to remind you that it's fried chicken time.

The methods of frying differ greatly in different sections of the country, but just the mention of Southern fried chicken is appetite-inspiring. A good, heavy skillet or frying pan is a necessity, and the chicken should be cut in serving pieces, salted and kept in the refrigerator overnight. Be sure the pieces are dried for serving and eating.

Don't just cut through anywhere. Take note of the bird's anatomy. Bone the breast meat and cut the two pieces in halves. Separate the legs from the second joints, and it might be just as well to use the rest cooked up in soup or for a left-over hot. Of course, if you buy tiny fryers you merely break the joints, bone the breast and fry them whole or half of.

COOKING CHICKEN

Before cooking dust each piece with black pepper and dredge well with flour. Then melt a generous amount of fat in the skillet, using half butter and half some other cooking fat, all butter is not good. When the fat is hot brown the chicken on both sides. Add more fat if necessary to prevent sticking. Then dust with paprika. Turn flame very low and cover the skillet; allow the chicken to fry gently until done. If preferred, place it in the oven and baste occasionally with bacon drippings. Leave uncovered for the last 15 minutes or so and test the legs and thighs for tenderness.

CHICKEN GRAVY

For gravy, reheat the fat (crumbs and all) in the pan and stir in enough flour to absorb the fat, but not to make it dry and crumbly. Stir in warm sweet milk (or thin cream) until the desired consistency is reached, stirring while adding the milk, and let the gravy bubble before serving. Season with salt and pepper. Serve with hot, crisp biscuits, dripping butter.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
4 tbsp. shortening
¾ cup milk (about)

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or with 2 knives until the consistency of coarse cornmeal. Stir in milk to make a smooth dough. Turn out on slightly floured board, knead ½ minute, and roll lightly to thickness of ½ inch. Cut in 2-inch rounds with floured cutter. Bake on ungreased sheet in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 14 to 16 biscuits.

When there is any left-over chicken from any method of cooking, you will find many interesting methods of using them, among them, chicken steaks, which may be new to you.

CHICKEN STEAKS

2 cups minced cooked chicken
¼ cup chopped pimientos
1 small can mushrooms, chopped
½ tsp. onion juice
1½ cups bread crumbs
2 tbsp. butter or chicken fat
1 egg slightly beaten
½ cup milk
½ tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
2 tbsp. fat for frying

Combine all ingredients, except the fat for frying, and form into individual steaks or patties. Dust with flour and pan-fry in hot fat until golden brown on each side. Arrange steaks on a platter and garnish with parsley and radishes.

Jellied chicken salad is always good with hot rolls and coffee, and makes a small amount of left-over chicken go quite a way.

Love

Excellent Match

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've known "G" for eight years and have always admired him for everything he does. He's tops for looks, is tall, a good dresser, wonderful companion and a real lover as rapidly going to the top as for ambition. Now here's my problem.

I've been separated from my husband for three years and we never go back. He wants me to get a divorce and marry him. He loves me and I do him. He has left no part of the country three times, but always comes back saying that I'll consider him for a husband. Do you think we were destined for one another? He knows just how things were during my marriage and knows what a terrible time I had with Ex—— my husband.

They say opportunity knocks but once, do you think this is my chance for happiness? My friends thinks he is an Adonis! Stand for me. Thank you kindly.

JUST GENE.

Unless divorce is a matter of conscience with you why shouldn't you marry this man who professes to give you all the happiness you missed in your first marriage?

Catalina Fun Quiz

By Sanford Jarrell

PARKER JONES was reading news of the political campaign in his hotel bedroom, and it was a repetition of what he had read hundreds of times since the national conventions. He turned to the sports pages, glanced over the major league baseball scores.

He debated in his mind whether to see another movie, or listen to the radio. It was too soon to go to bed, although his train for Chicago was scheduled to leave at an early morning hour. He was looking forward eagerly to the comfort of his bachelor establishment on Goethe st., a stone's throw from the lake, and his incomparable Swedish cook-butler-valet-chauffeur Gustav.

He wondered where Marjorie was tonight, and what she was doing. When they were amicably divorced 18 months ago, she took a voyage around South America, and he hadn't heard from her since the day she sailed. He missed her dreadfully, and he thought she missed him, too.

It was silly for them to quarrel over his secretary, Helen, and anyhow Helen was married now, and her successor was a competent young woman whom no employer in his right mind would glance at twice.

Subconsciously he heard the announcer say, "This is the station of the stars, Beverly Hills. The next program is by transcription, a re-broadcast of a program carried earlier today over a nationwide network." A pause, and then a second voice: "Hello, mainlanders. This is Jerry Breckner, that lucky guy on Sunny Catalina, twenty-two miles away on the sun-tanned beach in front of the St. Catherine Hotel . . ."

It was a question and answer program, and Parker Jones usually had no time for such. However, he was too comfortable and lazy to get out of his chair to tune Santa Catalina off.

"Ah," said Mr. Breckner, after getting a lot of laughs from several persons he questioned, "here is a mighty pretty girl in a baby blue play suit. What's your name?"

"Marjorie Jones."

"Miss or Mrs.?"

There was a brief pause, then: "Mrs. Jones."

Parker Jones gripped the fat arms of his chair. It was Marjorie. Now what the devil was she doing on Catalina?

"And is this gentleman next to you, Mr. Jones?"

"No," Marjorie replied, "I don't know him."

"Well, you should get acquainted What's your name, sir?"

"Tom Bannock, from Santa Monica."

The Cast of Characters In "Catalina Fun Quiz"

PARKER JONES, who regrets having been divorced from MARJORIE, then begins searching for her after hearing her on the air.

"Fine, Mr. Bannock. Mrs. Jones, may I present Mr. Bannock from Santa Monica? Nice spot, Santa Monica. Where are you from, Mrs. Jones?"

THE RIGHT ANSWER

"Los Angeles." She pronounced it with the soft "g."

"From Los Angeles?" Mr. Breckner subtly chided her by giving the hard "g."

"Yes, for the last six or eight months."

"Well, Mrs. Jones, here's a tough one. Can you name the Vice President of the United States during the Taft Administration?"

"If I think long enough, I believe I can."

"Don't think too long."

Marjorie was thinking out loud, but her voice carried through the mike.

"Garner, Curtis, Dawes, Marshall—"

"I see you do things reverse English, Mrs. Jones."

"It was Sherman," said Marjorie. "James Schoolcraft Sherman, and I believe he died before his term of office expired."

"Right. That's splendid, Mrs. Jones. Who says people don't remember our vice-presidents? Now I'm going to move over by this little girl here. What's your name?"

When the steamer for Santa Catalina left Wilmington at 10 o'clock the next morning, Parker Jones was aboard. The boat was crowded. He seemed to be about the only passenger who was unaccompanied.

After a two-hour trip the craft entered the blue-green waters of Avalon Bay, the little resort town nestling in a gem-like setting with the rugged hills beyond. Parker Jones checked in at the St. Catherine Hotel, asked the clerk on duty if Mrs. Marjorie Jones was registered. The clerk made a check and reported that she was not. Mr. Jones went up to his room facing the water, got into a pair of old slacks and a polo shirt, and strolled on back to the heart of the town.

Parker Jones looked into every shop, anxiously scanned the passersby, but there was no sign of Marjorie. He inquired at the Atwater Hotel, but she wasn't there.

Inquiry developed that the popular night spot was the Casino, where Bob Crosby's orchestra was playing. Mr. Jones spent a pleasant three hours there, always on the lookout for Marjorie, who loved to dance. One attractive redhead, who admitted she was fresh from a Las Vegas divorce, suggested highballs, and the two of them adjourned to a swanky cocktail lounge. They made a date to go riding in the hills the next morning.

A FUTILE SEARCH

For the next three days he devoted himself assiduously to the engaging Mrs. Morris — that was the red-haired lady's name, and she from Philadelphia—on the theory that he stood as much chance to run across Marjorie with her as by himself, and probably a better chance as the divorcee was on the go all of the time.

Every day he was in the audience at Jerry Breckner's fun quiz, hoping she might return there. Evidently she had left on the boat the same day she had appeared on the impromptu radio program.

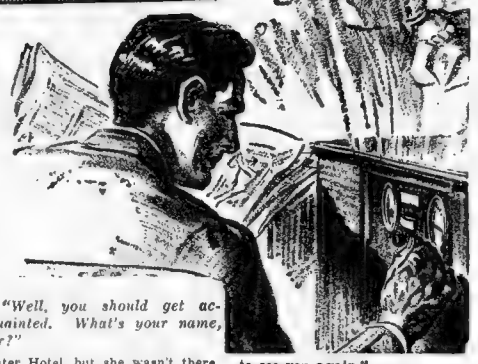
Mrs. Morris saw him off on the steamship, as she planned to spend another week on the island before going back to her home in the East. She promised to write him a ring when she passed through Chicago so he could have her to lunch between trains.

Parker Jones sailed on the railing of the vessel as Santa Catalina faded from view. He could, of course, wire Marjorie's home in St. Louis for her address in Los Angeles; she had said over the air that she was living there now. But no, he wouldn't do that. He'd take a plane back tomorrow, making up for the time he so pleasantly lost on the island.

"Who's your red-headed friend?"

There was Marjorie standing on the deck beside him. She looked adorable in a trim gray tailored suit, with one of those impossible yet cocky little hats on the side of her head.

"I listen to the radio," he said. "I heard you the other night. That's why I came over here; I wanted to see you again."



"Well, you should get acquainted. What's your name, sir?"

"I've been here all along."

"But I've hunted everywhere for you."

"With your lady friend?"

"Sure, with my lady friend. But to—oh, let's forget her. Where've you been the last three days?"

"I've been with the Bannocks."

"The Bannocks?"

The name sounded mighty familiar.

"Yes, they're such sweet people."

"Who are they?"

"They're from Santa Monica—Tom Bannock and his sister."

Then he remembered. Over the air waves, Marjorie had been introduced to "Mr. Bannock of Santa Monica." He felt a pang of jealousy.

"You must meet them," Marjorie said, taking his arm "They're in the cocktail lounge. I promised to drag you there. You'll like Tom. I'm sure."

"I will like h—," he grumbled.

"Oh yes you will," she said, "and you'll like her, too."

She almost dragged him d... the deck to the entrance to t... lounge. It was fairly well crowde... but she took her ex-mate st... to a table in the corner. A w... haired man arose. Beside him w... a little old lady.

Packard used cars come to us from owners who, generally speaking, take good care of their cars, as they do it, we know that it makes deductions from the allowance price so that we can put these cars in first class condition. They will depreciate less than any other car at the same price. The first owner paid the depreciation, that is one item that helps to make a Packard such an economical buy for the second owner.

The British Navy, Our Maginot Line

vs.

Sen. Walsh, the "Great Obstructionist"

With Winston Churchill's famous cry of defiance to Hitler and his appeal from bomb-terrorized London, for planes, ships and guns ringing in our ears

With General Pershing on the radio stating "If there is anything we can do to save the British Fleet we shall be failing in our duty if do not do it"

With General Douglas McArthur of the U. S. Army cabling across the ocean—"The greatest strategical mistake in all history will be made if America fails to recognize the vital moment, if she permits again the fatal epitaph 'too late.' Stop Hitler now and keep war away from America"

With President Roosevelt giving every possible aid to save civilization and the enslaved peoples of France, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Norway, Sweden, Greece, Rumania and other small nations

With Ambassador Kennedy urging all immediate aid to Britain, realizing the importance of the British Fleet to the national existence of the American people

With ships of mercy bringing to America refugee children from war-torn countries, through submarine-infested seas

Senator Walsh, the "Great Obstructionist" was fighting President Roosevelt's request to transfer 50 age-old American Destroyers to England.

United States is sending $8,000 war planes to Britain—Prime Minister De Valera of Ireland offers refuge in Irish homes to 2,000 British children . . . BUT, Senator Walsh Opposes, Appeases and Obstructs.

Senator Henry Parkman is a courageous soldier, a brilliant counselor, an outstanding educator, a fearless fighter for National Defense.

HENRY O. GOMPERTS, 91 Prince St., Jamaica Plain

Saltonstall Note In Vote Probe

A form letter from Governor Saltonstall asking help in his re-election from William H. Fisher, former traffic commissioner and now self-announced "Republican for Dever" was read into the record at a hearing before the Boston Election Commission.

Fisher's legal right to vote in Boston was being challenged by Henry J. Allen of Bowdoin st., Dorchester, Republican, and his counsel, Atty. Theodore P. Hollis, who is also director of registration for the G. O. P. committee.

Allen said Fisher has not been a resident of Boston for six years and is not entitled to vote, but Fisher said that though he has been a traveling auditor for the federal government since 1934, he has lived two months a year in Boston and pays poll taxes here.

Sharpest exchange of a long series of exchanges before the commission occurred when Atty. James H. Vahey, counsel for Fisher, read the form letter from the Governor thanking Fisher for previous help and asking his continued aid.

"That's just a form letter," Hollis objected.

"Then thousands of them are sent out to people like Fisher," Vahey snapped. "Governor Saltonstall assumed Fisher was a voter. This man is a Republican who came out for Dever, and you're now criticizing him."

AUSTEN LAKE

Harvard's Harlow Spikes 'Quit' Rumor

THAT PERENNIAL, RUBBER STAMP yarn that Harvard's Dick Harlow will pack up his bird's egg collection, spade up his rock garden and resign as head of the swine-skin department is going the rounds again.

AUSTEN LAKE

Harlow, they say, will accept a similar post at Ohio State for more pay and where he will be loved not alone for his football knack but as an adopted son of that football conscious community. For, say the cognescenti, at Ohio, unlike conditions at Harvard, 'taint no sin to draft shaggy apple knockers from their haymows, or mine boys from their hoists and swap them a college education for the loan of their thick necks and the battering power of their spines.

Harlow shushed all this today! In his slow, ecclesiastical Pocono, Pa., drawl, he said, "I have a contract with Harvard to coach football for a term of years. I intend to fulfill the terms of that contract to the last letter. I cannot entertain offers or invitations from any other college, and have received none."

That's laconic, succinct, terse and comprehensive enough. Harlow is satisfied. Harvard is satisfied. Things equal to the same thing are equal to each other. Q. E. D.

Conant Wrote a Letter

CONTRACTS USUALLY ARE CONTRARY to Harvard policy. For years without end the H. A. A. and their athletic teachers in some 16 departments, have labored under verbal agreements which ran from September to June. But last November, a few days after the disastrous Yale game, Harvard at President Conant's behest, offered Harlow a five-year treaty.

The Sunday following the Yale game I sat down with Harlow and his confidant, Al McCoy of Colby, in his Cambridge apartment. Harlow's Saturday-night gloom had changed to Sunday morning philosophy. The season, according to his rigid standard, had been a flop. Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Dartmouth had licked him.

He indicated an unopened box of cigars on a nearby table. An envelope lay there, too.

"There's compensation in everything," mused Harlow. "I came back last night feeling pretty droopy. Finally I picked up this letter."

It was from President Conant, and as nearly as this writer can recall, it said, "Dear Dick—I know you are in no mood for commiseration and I am offering none. But Harvard men are proud of their team today. We lost, but there are things more vital than victory. Most of all we are conscious that you have given the boys something more than mere coaching knack. We are satisfied. Harvard will continue its policy of strict amateurism and will not make any detours. I congratulate you on your coaching and the team on its play. JAMES B. CONANT."

As nearly as maybe, that was the text and a definition of Harvard policy.

He Might Have Gone to Maryland

SHORTLY THEREAFTER HARLOW SIGNED his long term contract and settled back to build teams from the scholars that came to hand. He might, at that very moment, have accepted a tempting offer from Maryland University, which like Penn State two years before, had been whinnying sweetheart calls for him to come down where the males are marvels of he-man masculinity, the authorities are not too obdurate and there is always a little something in the alumni kitty for any emergency. For I had heard that Maryland offered to create one or two effortless jobs to augment his coaching salary and net him, perhaps, $12,000 instead of the regulation $5000 which he draws at Cambridge.

It is possible that if some wealthy Maryland oyster millionaire rounded up a flock of schoolboy buzzards from the adjoining tobacco fields, sugar refineries and docks and requested the college registrar to enroll them in the rug-beating, pastry cooking and shoe-shining courses . . . why, like as not, they would turn up as duly credited scholars. It's possible!

Harlow was tempted! But he chose, instead, to stay on the Harvard job where Conant had established "a strict amateur policy" with "no detours." The lean and fat of football would be intermixed, perhaps long famines with an occasional feast. It was a challenge which he accepted.

Whether the left wing of Harvard alumni and the downtown quarterbacks like it or not, the policy at Harvard will remain the same tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow. It is not framed by the Athletic Association, or the Director of the coach. The President and the athletic counsel does that, and woe betide the sport Executive who shaves a scruple or cuts a corner.

I Love a Parade

THIS AUTHOR OF WONDER, wit and whatnot, enjoys a triumphal parade of some muscle proud unit as much as anybody. He'd like to see the Boston Red Sox pulverize all seven other American League teams, and have Boston College, Harvard, B. U., Tufts and Northeastern scramble up the peaks of glory and the ramparts of bliss. And the Bruins win whole series of Stanley Cups.

But I'm gosh-swizzled if I hold with the collegiate gaffers and elderly sophomores who regard defeat as a howling calamity and grow fungus on their chins from the constant dribble of tears.

It's nice to be sure to hear old Ole Olson, '04, tell how old Hank "Trainwreck" Smuckler snapped his leg off at the ankle before making his memorable 80-yard run on the raw bleeding stump. And it's swell

B. C. MAY PLAY TENN. IN BOWL

ATLANTA, Nov. 1 (AP)—You can print on your hathand the names of Tennessee and Boston College as probable New Year's Day opponents in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl football classic.

And Clemson of South Carolina is rated an odds-on choice for the Orange Bowl game at Miami, Fla., with speculation the undefeated Georgia team might be invited as an opponent.

Sugar Bowl officials are traditionally reluctant to speculate on probable choices. But sports writer Fred Digby, of the New Orleans Item long has been associated with the Sugar Bowl group, and is regarded as something of an unofficial spokesman through his column. And Digby says it is Tennessee vs. Boston College.

Digby contends that Texas A. & M., last year's Sugar Bowl winner, is Rose Bowl-bound, and rates the Aggies definitely out of the Sugar Bowl speculation.

Orange Bowl officials discourage talk of probable entries, Chairman Will M. Preston of the schedule committee insisting "it's still a wide open proposition." Southern sports writers, however, think if Clemson gets by Tulane tomorrow and Auburn a week hence, the powerful Tigers are a cinch for Miami.

Young Men Of Manhattan

Soph Trouble at H. C.

By BILL GRIMES

WORCESTER, Nov. 1—Poor Joe Sheeketski.

A year ago Joe was a carefree youngster. Today he's an old man, with the worries of the entire world on his shoulders, judging from his appearances and actions.

When he succeeded Dr. Eddie Anderson as head coach at Holy Cross, Sheeketski was supposed to have fallen heir to the greatest college squad in the East. That was no idle or slight exaggeration at the time. It was a fine squad but not the greatest in New England, let alone the East. With the departure of Anderson went fullback Bill Osmanski. And you can't replace a Bill Osmanski in one season.

During the first season he was in charge at "The Cross" Sheeketski dropped two games, L. S. U. and Boston College. To date this season, he has lost two out of five starts, L. S. U. for the second consecutive year and Brown. And four of his remaining five games are expected to be tougher than any Holy Cross has faced, namely Colgate, tomorrow afternoon Mississippi, Temple and Boston College.

21 SOPHS ON SQUAD

When he took over, Sheeketski had a veteran squad. He's carrying on this season with sophomores. There isn't a coach in the game who has enough stuff to win with sophomores against L. S. U., Brown, Colgate, Mississippi, Temple and Boston College.

There are no less than 21 sophomores on the present Holy Cross squad. Too many. Far too many for Sheeketski or any coach to produce a winner. Unquestionably, Sheeketski would have made a better showing this fall but for injuries and the fact that Bill Oliverio, Ray Rupolli, Ray Lynch and Biagio Trontl, all of whom were first stringers on last year's freshman eleven, didn't return to college.

Sheeketski realized that he couldn't hope for success with a sophomore aggregation. But, he got no alternative. In the first place, seven lettermen graduated last June. That's enough to wreck any college team. Then, just as camp at the Crusaders reported for duty, injuries began to crop up and the squad is so undermanned at present that when Sheeketski believes that a scrimmage would benefit his charges, he has to send for Hop Riople's freshmen squad, for Hop hasn't enough men available to put on against the varsity.

CAPTAIN'S ANKLES BAD

Capt. Jake Kelly is out of the line-up with two, not one, bad ankles. He hurt one in the Carnegie Tech game and the other against N. Y. U. And, although he is receiving daily treatments, Captain Kelly will be lost to his club for at least two more weeks.

Tommy Sullivan, the North Andover boy, who is by far the best back at Mount St. James, has a sore left knee and he'll be on the sidelines for another fortnight. Tom Alberghini, who hails from Peabody, is only a sophomore but he's rated as the best lineman on the squad. He's out with a broken blood vessel. Eddie Murphy, a first string end, is treating an injured arm; Bruno Matinowski, the giant fullback, has a bad back; Joe Osmanski has been, and still is handicapped by a weak ankle; Frank Gaziano has a cracked collarbone and Alex Nahigian, who flashed last season, was refused permission to play this season by Dr. Patrick J. Carney.

Is it any wonder that it took only 3 months to age Joe Sheeketski?

LINEMEN LEAD B. C. AGAINST JASPERS

Two lineman, John Yanchunas, right tackle, and Dave White, right guard, lead Boston College's forces against Manhattan tomorrow at Alumni Field.

Yanchunas, a dental lab assistant, has been a starter for the past two years. Tomorrow he'll probably be seen to the right tackle after spending the entire game on the bench. White, a former star at Somerville High and St. Anselm's, but Yanchunas is the one who is expected to spearhead the Hawks' attack.

White, a Somerville boy who was an all-star at Frank Leahy apparently has the guts, can be used at every guard slot. Last fall chunky, powerful Armel Dave was Gene Kerr's mate at right guard. This fall White, Joe Zabilski and Joe Repko have been dividing the duties of left guard. But for the fact that he has been handicapped by minor injuries this season, White might easily have been a starting guard.

JASPERS DANGEROUS

Tomorrow the highly touted Terriermen will get something they've been looking for for the past three weeks. First class competition. The Eagles, as a matter of fact might get even more than they've been looking for.

Reports emanating from New York indicate that the Jaspers are in the proper frame of mind to catch a team which isn't holding a big load. Such an affair that Dig treats against Utah and St. Anselm the Eagles might possibly have trimmed their guard. Head coach Leahy is really worried.

One thing about tomorrow's clash which is certain is the fact this Manhattan won't be a beaten team before the whistle opens festivities. The Herb Kopf coached Jaspers have competed with some of the best this semester. Gus Doran's Detroit University's undefeated Titans were barely able to eke out a 6-0 win over Manhattan. Last Friday night in Pittsburgh, Duquesne, one of the country's leading elevens, had a world of trouble tripping the Jaspers, 19-6.

THREW 8 T. D. PASSES

In Johnny Supulski, Ted Mazur and Charlie McNulty, Manhattan has a trio of fine backs. Supulski, a passer, has tossed eight touchdown passes in five games. He has lots of savvy when it comes to working the aerial game. He'll definitely be a threat any time he fades back to chuck one tomorrow afternoon. Against Boston University, a team which Manhattan trimmed 20-6, Supulski was immense.

Mazur and McNulty are the big shots of the Jasper running game. Ted is the Lou Montgomery type of back, small (148 pounds soaking wet), fast and elusive, liable to bust up a ball game with a long run. McNulty, who handles the heavy duty running plays, has been improving with each game this season.

Yes, Boston College will definitely get its longest for competition.

Huskies Riddled for Tufts

Northeastern's badly battered football squad closes its home season tomorrow at Huntington Field against the Jumbos of Tufts.

Only five Huskies who started against Upsala last week at East Orange, will be on the field for the kick-off. Ed Macfarland at end, Ed Jensen at tackle, Lou Erickson at guard, Dick Gray at center, and Ronnie Tubbs in the backfield are the only hold-overs after the gruelling Upsala contest.

Latest casualty is Capt. Dean Williams, who suffered a minor leg injury in Thursday's workout and will not start in his usual tackle spot. Joe Dias, sophomore triple threat, may not play, while Charlie Abend and Jim Jefferson appear definitely out.

The backfield will be almost entirely new, with Jim Shea taking over Dias's tailback duties, Franny Murray replacing Ed Barry at wingback, and Gunnar Hyrbek filling in for Phil Sheridan at blocking back.

Ward Off For Boston To Buy B's

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Elmer Ward, manufacturer and promoter of the Goodall Round-Robin Golf Tournament, left today for Boston to confer over the week-end with C. F. Adams concerning possible purchase of the Boston Bees, a business associate of Ward said today.

Ward and Bing Crosby are reported to have been dealing for the Bees.

The business associate said however that Crosby had dropped out of the proposed deal because of Commissioner K. M. Landis' dislike for mixing horse racing and baseball.

Crosby owns the Del Mar race track in California.

Gov. Murphy, Campbell May Team With Ward

Elmer Ward, South End man is keenly interested in buying the Boston Bees and it is certain possible that the purchase will be consummated over the week-end.

Ward is an influential and affluent official of the Goodall Co., makers of Palm Beach suits and he has the backing of influential and affluent friends who are eager to share in the Bees' purchase with him.

Two of these are Col. W. M. Campbell of Sanford and Kennebunkport, Me., president of the same Goodall Co., and Governor Francis Parnell Murphy of New Hampshire.

Campbell and the Governor tried to buy the New York Yankees last year but could not agree on the sale price which vacillated between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000.

ADAMS WANTS OUT

The Bees price has been put at $750,000, but it is predicted that a lower figure would be agreed upon. Before the surge of "Kiraly's Kids" last summer one could have bought the entire Bees outfit for some $300,000. But the sudden improvement in Eddie Miller, Cliff Ross, Hank Nowell et al sent the price tag soaring.

It is an established fact that C. F. Adams is on his way out. Whether it is voluntary on his part or whether Baseball Comm. Landis wants to give him the heave-ho because of his connection with Suffolk Downs doesn't matter. The fact is he wants to unload, and the quicker the better.

But the disposal of the club rests with Bob Quinn, president of the Bees, and any owner or group of owners must meet with Bob's approval or the sale is off.

A New York group tried to get hold of the Bees last summer, but Quinn was not satisfied that they would work for the best interests of the game and so he voided the sale.

But the Ward-Murphy-Campbell group would meet with his hearty endorsement. He likes their breed.

If the sale is consummated, it is believed that Quin will remain as head of the club and Casey Stengel as manager. The prospective purchasers for high regard for Bob's honesty and business acumen.

DANFORTH AND OUIMET

Ward, a sports fan of the first water is coming on to see the Harvard-Princeton game. He will confer with C. F. Adams at the first opportunity, probably tomorrow morning, and something may be forthcoming then.

Bill Danforth, millionaire Brookline broker, and Francis Ouimet are intimate friends of the Ward-Murphy-Campbell triumvirate, and it is possible they will fit into the club in some connection, perhaps on the board of directors.

At any rate, the Bees will be sold shortly, and Bostonians are hoping that Elmer Ward, former caddy at The Country Club and New England amateur golf champion ten years ago, is the head man of the buying group. Baseball on the other side of the tracks would be on the way up if the sale materializes.

Princeton's football team arrived in Boston today and went immediately to the Harvard Stadium for a brief session.

The invaders, headed by their famed passing combination of Allerdice to Stanley, is a short favorite to down the Crimson for the second year in a row tomorrow.

Dick Harlow announced today that he will definitely start Loren MacKinney in the Harvard backfield along with Charley Spreyer at tailback, Fran Lee at wingback and Capt. Joe Gardella at mocking back. Mac, Harvard's one man team, was moved to the blocking back berth early this week.

The Harvard starting eleven will be a new combination. As Harlow said:

"When a baseball team is losing, the manager shakes up the lineup. I am not sure that the shifts which I have made will bring results."

At left end, Wes Fesler, Cantab end coach, will exhibit Soph Barnes—a 189-pound, six-foot-three pass snatcher. Barnes was a fine end for the cubs last year and regarded highly as an adequate replacement for MacKinney. Barnes will be backed up by Don Forte from Newton.

Harvard's headman strings along with Elser and Gardiner at tackle; Pfister and Peabody at guard and Ayres at center.

Lone Star Dietz was Harlow's choice for the opening assignment at pivot position, but he is slightly under the weather with a cold but will be ready to play.

MACKINNEY ON SPOT

All eyes will be focused on Loren MacKinney when the rugged Southerner makes his debut as a backfield member against the Tiger. He will handle the Harvard punting assignments and will continue to rank as the No. 1 Harvard pass receiver.

The most notable thing about the Harvard team in its workouts this week has been a great drive and a realization that the Princeton Tigers is not quite as ferocious as it has been in past years. It will be a spirited Crimson team which faces the Bengals tomorrow.

In its first three games of the season, Princeton relied almost entirely on its aerial tactics. Tomorrow the fans are going to be shown a very fine Princeton ground attack, which began to function against Rutgers last week as the Tigers rolled overland for 233 yards and 93 by the air route.

Elton E. Wieman, the genial general at the Jungletown, who succeeded Fritz Crisler four years ago, has devoted the whole week in coordinating the Tiger line and backfield in overland offensive maneuvers, with the view of upsetting Harvard's basic strategy for the contest.

Princeton failed to show any running attack in its early games. The Orange and Black was immediately tabbed as a passing team. Harvard scouts have told their Crimson charges that Allerdice is as fine a passer as there is in the country and if Harvard can stop his passing game, Harvard should be singing the chorus of victory by sunset tomorrow.

SURE OF AIR GAME

Behind a closed fence at Palmer Field in quiet Princeton, Wieman, confident of his team's passing ability, has prepped his squad in a thorough and tricky ground attack. If the Orange and Black is bowled over, there's little hope for Harvard.

Princeton left the Jungle early this morning as hundreds of undergrads cheered them and prepared to follow their team to Boston.

Princeton copped the Big Three title last year by crushing the Elis and booing out Harvard in a 9-3 game. The no longer potent Big Three doesn't mean much in the football world today, but to Yale, Harvard, and Princeton, it is still the determining factor of a successful season.

VETERAN—Charlie Spreyer, clever Harvard back, who faces Princeton for second time in his career at Stadium tomorrow.

W. Reserve Favored Over B. U.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 1—Still seeking its first victory over Western Reserve, Boston University arrived here this morning for an inter-sectional clash with the Red Cats at League Park tomorrow afternoon.

Cleveland critics have installed the home team as a 7 to 5 favorite over the eleven from Boston on the fact that the Cats seem to have the Indian sign on the Hanleymen.

This year, the Red Cats should be undefeated going into this game but a fumble set up a Dayton touchdown to hand the Edwards coached team its only defeat. Reserve has won its other three, and last Saturday it rolled up a 47 to 6 score over Miami with the regulars on the bench most of the afternoon.

THREE GREAT BACKS

The Cats have three great backs in Steve Bellchick, Johnny Ries and Dick Booth. This senior trio has raised ruction with the Terriers for the past two years and Coach Pat Hanley is plenty concerned over this trio.

It is a mighty tough thing to set up a defense to stop these three Cats. Ries and Booth are a pair of speed merchants who are very dangerous in an open field and if the defense is spread to stop them, Bellchick will smash the middle for yardage galore.

Yes, [illegible] these facts, Boston Universities scouts feels that a victory over Western Reserve is long overdue.

B. U. FIELDS BEST

Pat Hanley's squad has best team they have had to field since the opening game with a veteran in every position except right end, where Howard Mitchell, a sophomore, will take over the duties of Capt. Jack McDonald, who has been sidelined with a bad shoulder.

George Murphy, a doubtful starter, has rounded back into shape and his presence at left end will strengthen that side of the Terrier line considerably for the Newburyport boy is one of the finest wingmen the Terriers have ever had.

Murphy's understudy Al Amerault worked the Terriers workout this afternoon at League Park.

This session will last only an hour and will be used primarily to limber up the boys after the Long Island tilt.

Bruins Play Pics Nov. 10

Boston Bruins will put on a second preview on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 10, when they face the Olympics at the Arena.

The Bruins have just returned from Hershey, Pa., where they have been training for two weeks. The Bruins [illegible] off with the Americans for a practice game.

The teams met once before, two seasons ago, and the Bruins won, 7-2.

The Bruins will open their regular season Sunday night when they take on Canadiens at Montreal. They have all their last season's favorites back, Dit Clapper, Milt Schmidt, et al.

The Pics, on the other hand, will show several new faces in Danny Sullivan, who captained Dartmouth last season; Ray Fortin, Colby College ace, and Vic Polich, a goalie, younger brother of the Jack Polich, Philly Ramblers wing.

JACK CONWAY

THE HARVARD PRINCETON GAME LOOKS TO JACK CONWAY

By JACK CONWAY

You will see one of the greatest passers in the history of college football when Dave Allerdice of Princeton opens fire against Harvard in the Stadium.

Allerdice has been the spark plug in the Tigers' games this season. This sensational player has completed 52 out of 97 passes for gains of 658 yards.

In Princeton's clash with Penn, Allerdice completed 25 passes for 350 yards. He would have established a new college record if six of his perfect passes had not been dropped. The present record is 450 yards for a single game.

Jackson, Peters, Stanley and Aubrey are the young men who race down the field to receive Allerdice's passes.

Loren MacKinney of Harvard will try to throw Allerdice and the other Princeton players off balance with his long punts.

Princeton is a better attacking team than it is on the defense, while Harvard has a fair defense. The Crimson hopes to show a better forward passing game against Princeton than it did against Dartmouth. The wind in the Stadium last Saturday hampered the Harvard aerial game.

I am picking Princeton to win. I think Dave Allerdice will put on a show in the Stadium like Tommy Harmon did when the latter was here with Michigan.

In the Princeton-Penn game, Allerdice and Frank Reagan of Penn scored nine touchdowns and between them gained 600 yards. I don't believe even Dick Harlow's improved defense will be able to stop Allerdice.

The Tigers have a fighting, snarling team, while Harvard always rises to great heights when it clashes with Princeton on the gridiron. Last year the Tigers barely won 9 to 6, and this year's battle should be as stirring.

17 MAINE CLUBS LISTED FOR W. R. HEARST SHOOT

In response to the many inquiries received by the Boston American-Record rifle editor, a full list of 17 shooting organizations in the State of Maine is published here today.

Many persons intending to compete in the William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship Competition, the rifle shooting classic which will headline the indoor winter sports season, are anxious to join such organizations beforehand.

However, in case there might be any misunderstanding, it is not necessary for participants in the Hearst Rifle Shoot to be members of any such club. While it will, in the long run, prove of tremendous help in shooting accuracy to belong to an organized group with regular teams and league schedules, any person of United States citizenship is given a warm invitation to enter the Hearst classic.

Clubs of other New England states have been published from time to time during the past few weeks. Here is the Maine list and the names of the club secretaries to contact either directly or by mail:

Bedford Rifle & Pistol Club, Bedford, Me., Hiram Williams, secretary. Rumford Rifle & Pistol Club, Rumford, Me., Ralph F. Spencer, secretary, 47 Exchange st. American Legion Post 47 R. P. Club, Bridgton, Me., John Chapman, secretary. American Rifle Club, Auburn, Me., Frank W. Dodd, secretary, 33 Court st., Bridgton. Pine Tree Rifle Club, Me., E. J. Favor Melrose Harriers To Unseat Brockton High

Melrose High, winner of eight consecutive dual meets, is favored to unseat Brockton as state interscholastic harrier champion when Boston University stages its third annual meet over the two and a half mile Riverside course tomorrow morning, starting at 11 a. m.

Coach Clark of Melrose has only Thomas Dockrell, who finished 16th last year; Forrest Symmes, who finished 43d, and Ralph Wells, who finished 49th, returning to competition, but his strength is well-balanced.

The battle for individual honors should be among Alden Lane, Jr., of Brockton, Dick Palson of Winchester and Edward Larkin of Gardner.

Lane, who is captain of the Brockton team, finished third last year, and is the only one of the first five finishers of last year's meet returning.

Twenty-one schools are entered, which is one more than the total of last year and two more than the nineteen schools who were entered for the first meet in 1938. The schools competing are:

Arlington High School, Belmont High School, Beverly High School, Brockton High School, Chelsea High School, Concord High School, Memorial High School, F. Douglas; Gardner High School, Lynn English High School, Marlboro High School, Melrose High School, Milton High School, Quincy High School, Reading High School, Revere High School, Rockland High School, Mary E. Wells High School, Southbridge; Wakefield High School, Waltham High School, Weymouth High School and Winchester High School.

Safety in Numbers

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Nine Columbia University gridders played the full 60 minutes against Cornell last year when Cornell's Big Reds squeezed out a victory on a blocked punt. This year Coach Lou Little experts it to be different. He led a squad of 30 players toward Ithaca, N. Y., and said he thought he had enough replacements to go around.

Tarheels Storm New York

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 1 (AP)—More than a little bit of Carolina is going to be transplanted to New York tomorrow when the University of North Carolina Tarheels battle the Fordham Rams.

In addition to a special train that will leave tonight with the team, a 100-piece band and many fans, a bus caravan also is heading northward today with another group of football followers.

Between 500 and 1000 North Carolina rooters have arranged to parade down Park Avenue tomorrow morning and hold a pep rally led by ex-North Carolina cheerleader Kay Kyser.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

THE MARYLAND racing scene shifts to Pimlico this afternoon with the Pimlico Special and the Exterminator Handicap as the features . . . Challedon won the Special a year ago, and today was to face Can't Wait in what promise to be one of the best races of the season.

The Exterminator Handicap is over a distance of two miles and 70 yards . . . It is a new event, and should prove popular with Maryland racegoers . . . Shot Put, which has proved a sensation in distance events this year, was installed an early favorite.

From Pimlico the thoroughbreds will go to Bowie, and then to Charles Town, and later Florida . . . Meanwhile Rockingham Park will continue offering New England folks the best of racing through November 16 . . . With a fair break in weather, Lou Smith expects Rockingham to draw large crowds during the remainder of the meeting . . . Three Saturdays and Armistice Day should be helpful to the attendance and mutuel figures at the Salem, N. H. racing strip.

Dave Wilson, champion New England handicapper, says he passed up a personal bet on Bright Spot who paid $310.20 to win because he was more interested in a cup of coffee than he was in some late paddock information from "Kid" Zizzle

"All season 'Kid' Zizzle and myself have been playing $2 on long shots," said Dave. "I was drinking a cup of coffee when Zizzle rushed into the track restaurant, and showed me a $2 ticket he had bought on Bright Spot.

"'Be sure and bet $5 on Bright Spot,' said the 'Kid.' 'He looks like a cinch.'

"I continued drinking my coffee and waved Zizzle away. I thought he was handing me another long shot that wouldn't be closer than 30 lengths at the finish. When Bright Spot won, I asked for the smelling salts."

Novice Boxers in All-America Tourney

THERE WILL BE novice classes in the first trial tournament of the All-America show at the Arena on November 11 . . . As in former years, the novice champions will be crowned at the New England finals that take place at the Garden on December 9.

In addition to the novice classes, there will be open divisions in which the class of the New England amateurs will strive for the right to represent New England in the battles against the other Eastern teams, and later in the grand national.

There is an excellent crop of amateur punch flingers this season, and I am sure that our New England boxers will make good showings when they oppose the class of the country's finest pugs.

The Irish-American A. C. is once more co-operating with the American-Record in staging this tournament.

President Herb Holm of the New England A. A. U. and other A. A. U. officials will give the coming bouts their full support.

Brown Bidding for Football Greatness

BROWN, FRESH from its victory over Holy Cross, will try to add Yale to its list of victims at New Haven tomorrow. Brown has one of the best football teams it has had in several years, and should make a splendid showing in coming games.

Holy Cross will try to snap out of its slump when it clashes with Colgate. Holy Cross has some good material, and is hopeful of getting going soon.

Manhattan will furnish Boston College with more opposition than it has received in recent games, but it is unlikely that the Eagles will be in any serious danger.

Many Boston people have gone to New York to attend the Army-Notre Dame game. While Army has had a poor season, the Cadets usually rally when they oppose Notre Dame. It is hoped they will do so this year so as to give the big crowd the thrill it is seeking.

WESTON W. ADAMS is shipping his racing stable to Pimlico . . . A few of the Adams horses will be left in New England for the Winter, and should be fresh when the thoroughbreds return here for 1941 racing.

Rockingham experienced its first muddy track of the season yesterday . . . A warm sun came out shortly before post time, and the track began to dry out rapidly . . . The mudders had their first innings in a long time. Jockeys Paradise and May, who have been ill, were back riding.

Jockey Taylor is down a bit fine, but he refuses to take any time out as he is trying to win the national jockey championship . . . Billy Stevens writes that George Martin of the South End looked like a champion as he outscored Pedro Montanez.

Challedon Heavy Favorite in Pimlico Special

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Challedon, reigning king of the turf, goes forth in the Pimlico Special today heavily-favored to defeat his lone opponent, Can't Wait.

The Special, featuring the opening-day program of Pimlico's 13-day fall meeting, brings Challedon and Can't Wait together in a mile and three-sixteenths test for a winner-take-all purse of $10,000. Post time is 4:15 p. m., E. S. T.

Gobs of prestige, as well as the rich purse, awaited the winner, for the Maryland Jockey Club has termed the event a race to determine the outstanding horse of the year, a title Challedon won last year.

Eight bids were issued to the invitation affair, but Pencilon Rush and Midland were withdrawn and Seabiscuit, Bimelech and Eight Thirty already were out of action.

Challedon, the Maryland bred champion owned by W. L. Brann, won the special last year at the event. War Admiral won in 1937, it lost to Seabiscuit in [illegible]

George Woolf were each seven $ in the [illegible] special and track. It [illegible] get the [illegible] on Challedon today. Al Robertson, who [illegible] Can't Wait to victory in the Potter, Continental and Washington [illegible] ops, got the call again to have old Hank, looking gray, shaggy and seedy, take his bows, give full credit for his run to old Ole Olson for having cleaned out the opposing tacklers, a front row of boxes, the goal posts and the main ticket entrance with one rolling block.

But it will be just as swell in years to come to have some of the current Crimson come back as gray wrinkled, arthritic old fusters and tell the future crop of Crimsons how they shed their last inch of cuticle, spit out their last bicuspid and lay mangled and bleeding in the gloaming

There's a bit of hardy heroism in taking it, too. We can't "give" it all the time.

Rich woolens and expensive tailoring—which assure you of that warmth and fit you would expect in a much higher priced coat—you will find MILITARY STYLES — ENGLISH RAGLANS — BOX COATS — double breasted and single breasted styles.

Bill Stewart To Referee N. H. L. Opener

Bill Stewart of Dorchester, National League baseball umpire and National Hockey League referee, will leave tonight for Toronto where he will referee the New York Rangers-Toronto Maple Leafs season opener tomorrow night in Toronto.

This is interesting in view of the face that a few months back Stewart handed in his resignation to the Hockey League over contractual difficulties.

But the matter was ironed out satisfactorily, Stewart explained from his Gallivan blvd. home this afternoon, and he is once more in the hockey league fold.

All the league officials will meet President Frank Calder in Toronto tomorrow, Stewart said, and it is possible that Bill will officiate at the Bruins opener with Canadiens in Montreal Sunday night.

Overlin Made 7-5 Favorite Over Belloise

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (INS)—The Ken Overlin-Steve Belloise middleweight title fight in Madison Square Garden tonight promises to be the biggest betting fight of the year.

The odds have been shifting every day for two weeks, and the latest quotations make Overlin a 7-5 choice to retain his title.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said today he would try to match the winner of tonight's 15-rounder with Tony Zale, the Chicagoan, who is recognized as champion by the National Boxing Ass'n.

Belloise will pit his youth, speed and punch against the craft and guile of the veteran Overlin.

Belloise has a strange style. He looks wide open because he stands with his left hand extended almost at right angles to his body. But he can hit like the kick of a mule from that position, as a long string of knockouts testifies.

Overlin himself is no mean puncher. Moreover, he is one of the ...

All of Maine Open Today to Deer Hunters

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 1 (AP)—The whole of Maine became a legal hunting ground today for those sportsmen whose biggest thrill is bagging a deer.

No hunter may kill more than one deer in the open season, which continues through Nov. 20.

Since Oct. 21 the woods of Aroostook, Penobscot, Somerset, Piscataquis, Franklin and Oxford counties have resounded to the sharp bark of high-powered rifles.

Today red-capped hunters invaded the state's other 10 counties, in some of which the woods were reported dangerously dry, and forestry officials joined game department men in warning hunters against the careless use of matches and smoking materials.

MINNESOTA, DUKE, TULANE, CORNELL BIG GAME PICKS

The Associated Press offers another chapter in the weekly football guessing contest (and hopes it is happier than last week's):

NORTHWESTERN - MINNESOTA: As close to a standoff as can be imagined. Both unbeaten, both untied, both potent. Minnesota, fast and alert, seems to have waded through the tougher competition but perhaps none as tough as the Wildcats. Blanketed by a deep fog, Minnesota.

HARVARD-PRINCETON: Doubt that Harvard can stop Dave Allerdice's passes. Princeton.

ARMY-NOTRE DAME: Think of a number. Notre Dame.

BOSTON COLLEGE - MANHATTAN: Adds up to Boston College no matter how you figure it.

TEXAS A. AND M.-ARKANSAS: Spot for an upset but stringing along with the Aggies.

U. C. L. A.-STANFORD: U. C. L. A. has lost five ball games, yet nobody has scored more than one touchdown on the team. There's a strong urge to take a chance on them until you glance at Stanford's records. Then the urge disappears. Stanford.

TULANE-CLEMSON: This is where everybody discovers just how good Clemson may be. Timidly, Clemson.

DUKE-GEORGIA TECH: Possible firewarks but taking Duke.

CORNELL - COLUMBIA: The Lions made it close a year ago and may again for Cornell's due for a let-down. No possible selection, however, but Cornell.

PENN-NAVY: One guess is as good as another but with Reagan a doubtful quantity, this corner's nod goes to Navy.

OHIO STATE-INDIANA: These two have really been through the mill. The Buckeyes have the greater man-power and that might prove decisive. Ohio State.

TENNESSEE - LOUISIANA: Can't look beyond Tennessee.

GEORGIA-AUBURN: The loss of Rufus Deal will hurt Auburn and Georgia seems to be making excellent progress. Still, Auburn.

CALIFORNIA - OREGON STATE: Let the coin decide . . . Oregon State.

HOLY CROSS-COLGATE: Colgate rates the nod.

SYRACUSE-GERGETOWN: Definitely a risk for the Hoyas' long undefeated string but the selection still must be Georgetown.

YALE-BROWN: Close enough. Brown.

WISCONSIN-ILLINOIS: And still another. Wisconsin.

MISSOURI-NEW YORK UNIVERSITY: Looks safe for Missouri.

DETROIT-TULSA: A threat to the Titans' unbeaten record but we'll still take Detroit.

Also: Temple over Bucknell; Dartmouth over Sewanee; William & Mary over Virginia Military; Virginia over Virginia Tech; Washington State over Idaho; Oregon over Montana; Colorado over Utah; Brigham Young over Utah State; Lafayette over Washington & Jefferson; Santa Clara over San Francisco.

Brown Starts Veteran Backs Against Yale

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 1 (INS)—Brown added the finishing touches to its football attack today as it made ready to meet the Yale Bulldog tomorrow in New Haven.

Although the starting line is in doubt, it is expected Coach Tuss McLaughry will start the backfield that opened against Holy Cross last week—Savignano, Detwiler, Sheean and High.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 1 (INS)—Billy Bell, a sharpshooting passer, will start for Yale against Brown tomorrow, it was indicated by Coach Ducky Pond.

Bell, a second-stringer, showed up so well in the game with Penn that it was decided to use him against Brown.

Bob Brooks, who has been out with injuries, also is expected to return to the starting line at tackle tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (INS)—A squad of 30 Columbia football players were en route today to Ithaca, N. Y., for their annual game on Saturday with unbeaten and untied Cornell.

Coach Lou Little plans to take his warriors to Watkin's Glen, a little hamlet approximately 25 miles from Ithaca. The team will finish its workouts there and will not set foot in Schoellkopf field until camp time.

PHILADEPHIA, Nov. 1 (INS)—Sophomore Jack Welsh and Johnny Dutcher were named as wingback and end, respectively, on Penn's starting eleven against Navy on Saturday.

Coach George Munger also groomed Mort Shiekman, another sophomore, to replace Irv Mendelson, who is still favoring an ankle injury, at guard.

Solem's starting lineup for the contest with the unbeaten Hoyas apparently was set for all posts but right end. Here he alternated with Whitey Piro and Gene Berger during a lengthy final scrimmage.

Was His Face Red?

CALDWELL, Ia., Nov. 1 (AP)—Buck Selders, assistant football coach at the College of Idaho, doesn't like to talk about his latest scouting trip.

He went to La Grande, Ore., Saturday to see the Eastern Oregon College of Education play Linfield College only to find the game had been played Friday

Louis Checks Hecklers In Speech for Willkie

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (INS)—Wildly acclaimed by audiences in Harlem and four other sections, World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis headed for Buffalo and Cleveland today to make more talks in behalf of Wendell L. Willkie.

In short, crisp sentences, Louis called on all Negroes to vote for the Republican presidential candidate in his New York talks. He not only proved himself an impressive speaker but a good hand at stifling hecklers as well.

Turning on some hecklers in a crowd of 4000 in a Harlem ballroom, Louis called out:

"I want to tell you Democrats I'm used to boos and I win anyhow."

Louis told his audiences:

"I'm for Willkie because he once was as poor as we was. He knows just what $15 a week on relief will do. He knows there's no future in $15 a week. I won't starve, no matter who's elected, but I'm not thinking of myself. I'm thinking of my people.

"I never came out for a candidate before. I'm a fighter, not a politician. But this country has been good to me. It gave me everything I've got. I was just a poor young fellow coming up from the South.

"I think Willkie will give us a square deal. Roosevelt had two terms to show what he could do. But he didn't give us an anti-lynching bill. He hasn't done much for us in other ways."

Lynn English Tests Peabody

TRIPLE THREAT—Joe Raso, clever Malden High back, passes on the run like Dave Allerdice of Princeton. Joe will be in there pitching tomorrow when Warren McGuirk's boys face Somerville at Pearl street stadium.

By SAM BROGNA

The battle of the season is on for tonight when a strong Peabody High eleven tangles with an equally as sturdy a Lynn English at Leo Buckley Field, Peabody.

This schoolboy extravaganza and a small number of other contests will wind up one of the most successful and profitable night campaigns of scholastic warfare.

Peabody High, regarded even better than the 1938 championship outfit, will put its victory string of six unbeaten games right on the line, and will match its skillful blending of power and subtlety to that which will be offered by an eleven reputed to be just as strong and also undefeated.

STATE TITLE BIDDERS

In all probability the outcome of this all-important clash will go a long way in deciding the new State champion since both schools are right in the thick of the wild scramble.

Although they haven't been brought into the championship picture as much as they should have, the Tanners have accumulated the best schoolboy record of the season and State as well. In brushing aside six straight opponents, the Bill Seeglitz coached eleven has kept its goal line uncrossed, thus making it the only outfit in the State to be undefeated, untied and unscored on, a truly remarkable achievement.

Cambridge Latin, Lynn Classical, St. James of Haverhill, Beverly, Newburyport and Chelsea fell in that order. All but the Beverly tilt was played under the lamps, which just about makes the Tanners the Night Hawks, which they have been tabbed of late, instead.

Lynn English also offers a record that cannot be overlooked. Outside of a scoreless stalemate with Beverly, which Peabody defeated 6 to 0, this other North Shore team licked Lowell, Salem, Lawrence, Medford and Waltham in the order named.

CLASSICAL CHOICE

More lamp football will be in the offering for the North Shore fans. While these bang-up schools are fighting to knock the other out of the undefeated class, Lynn Classical and Lowell will be mixing it up at the spacious Manning Bowl. Officials tried to switch the English-Peabody game to Lynn where the field as well as the lighting system is heads and shoulders above that which the Buckley Stadium offers, but negotiations fell through.

After losing its opening game, 6 to 0, to Peabody, Classical has been in a class of its own, coming back strong to win five in a row. At the rate it has been clicking, Lowell, even though it has shown marked improvement after dropping three of its first four games, shouldn't be much more than a stepping stone for Classical.

Two other night games are on tap but out of reaching distance. St. John's of Worcester tackles Worcester Commerce and Milford visits Hudson.

BROGNA PICKS

Boston English over St. Mark's, 13 to 6.
Peabody over Lynn English, 14 to 7.
Lynn Classical over Lowell, 20 to 7.
Roxbury Latin over Noble-Greenough, 8 to 0.
Rivers over Brown-Nichols, 12 to 6.

GRID GAME WANTED

Middlesex A. A. of Watertown is seeking a game away from home for Sunday. Manager Lou Cappo-riccio may be reached at Belmont 2653.

N. E. SMALL COLLEGES PRESENT FINE CARD

There's an appetizing menu on tap for small college New England football tomorrow afternoon.

Most of them figure to be bitterly fought affairs and if anybody doubts it, just try picking the winners.

The games are:

Tufts at Northeastern.
New Hampshire at St. Anselm.
Bowdoin at Bates.
Colby at Maine.
Mass. State at Amherst.
Wesleyan at Coast Guard.
Providence at Springfield.
Hyannis at Norwich
W. P. I. at Rhode Island.

Leaving the Tufts-Northeastern game which will be covered elsewhere in this sports section, the two games in the Pine Tree State shape up as the closest battles of the day.

Bates with the prospects of winning its first state title in ten years is certain to be an inspired eleven on its home field against Bowdoin even with Captain Mike Bucci-gross aidelined because of an infected foot.

The University of Maine, always a tough team to beat at Orono, is certain to give Colby a struggle right up to the final whistle, for another loss would eliminate the state university from the championship fight.

Over at Amherst the town title is at stake with the Lord Jeffs meeting Mass. State. Amherst carries too many guns for the weak State eleven to chalk up any upset.

New Hampshire's small college championship will be settled at Manchester tomorrow with St Anselm facing the University of New Hampshire. Many feel that the Wildcats will upset the Hawks after the terrific walloping St. Anselm received at the hands of Boston College.

CLEO SAVED BOULE

This doesn't figure, though, for Cleo O'Donnell who is as cagey as they come, yanked most of his regulars when he saw his team had no chance against the Eagles. Ed Boule, Hawks brilliant passer, played only ten minutes against Boston College.

Wesleyan with a big squad and experienced operatives pack too much power for Coast Guard while Rhode Island State with Duke Abruzzi back will send W. P. I. down to its fifth successive defeat.

Norwich with five victories in six starts will have very little trouble with Hyannis Teachers.

Irish-American Holds Bouts for Novices

Novice boxers will get their first chance of the season to perform Monday night when the Irish-American A. A. stages an open-novice tournament at the Arena.

There will be eight classess of competition on Monday's program as follows: Open—126, 135, 147, 160 pound and heavyweight; novice—147, 160-pound and heavyweight.

The bouts will serve as an interlude between the close of the Golden Glove championships and the opening of the All-America championships, which will start one week from Monday at the Arena.

RULES GOVERNING THE FOOTBALL CONTEST

NO. 6

The object of the Daily Record-American Football Contest is to select winners of twenty collegiate football games to be played each Saturday. Anyone may enter the contest excepting employes of the Record-American and their families.

The selections are listed on the chart here which is ready to be filled out by the contestant. Simply place an (X) in the space nearest the name of the team you think will win, or if you predict a tie game place the letter (T) in the spaces nearest the names of the tying teams.

Calculate the AVERAGE score of all competing teams, except those for which you predict a tie score. Write winners' and losers' average score in space provided in coupon. Do not write individual scores in spaces or on the coupon. Indicate average scores only by adding scores of all teams and then divide the total by the number of teams competing.

Only ONE solution may be entered by a contestant. All entries must be in the office of the Record-American not later than Midnight Friday, the day before the games. You need not buy a copy of the Record or American to enter this contest. Tracings of the contest form may be made from copies in the public library or in the Record-American office. Such entries will be acceptable and given equal consideration with those clipped from these newspapers.

A prize of $100.00 will be awarded the person whose entries contain all selections correct. If more than one person submits perfect solutions, $100.00 will be awarded the tying contestant whose average score tabulations most nearly match with actual average scores of the games. If no perfect list of solutions is entered $50.00 will be awarded to the contestant having the nearest number of selections correct and should two or more contestants tie for this prize the tying contestant submitting the most nearly correct average scores will receive the award. A prize of $25.00 will be awarded the person submitting the second largest number of correct solutions and should two or more contestants tie for this prize, tying contestant submitting the most nearly correct average scores will receive the prize. Twenty-five awards of $1.00 each will be given the twenty-five contestants whose entries contain in succession, the next largest number of correct solutions and whose average scores most nearly match the actual scores of the games.

Winners of each week's contest will be announced on the Saturday following the games. The decision of the judges in all cases shall be final.

Mail all entries to the Record-American Football Contest Editor, P. O. Box 1897, Boston, Mass.

In the event of postponement of any of the games, such games will automatically be excluded from the contest. In the event that the planned date of any game scheduled is changed, then that game is automatically excluded.

BUGS EYE PREVIEW

Finds Emily Post Coaching This Year's Yale Eleven

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

My old alma mammy, Public Playgrounds, is playing Municipal Dump tomorrow, and I will be unable to attend the Texas Aggies and Arkansas game at Bryan Station, Texas.

However, it's a long lane that has no five-yard penalties, and I will tell you why I favored Michigan over Penn last week. Just because Michigan had met and shellacked the toughest opponents.

There has been some hypersensitive repartee about me suddenly busting loose in the end zones as a football expert. Listen, lads, I follow football closer than a hen picking up corn.

Furthermore, I can stay right here in New York City this autumn and watch the greatest parade of college teams in the country. I will have my choice of Notre Dame, Army, Navy, Maine, Georgia, Alfred, Fordham, St. Mary's Syracuse, Wisconsin, Columbia, West Virginia, Holy Cross, New York University, Georgetown, North Carolina, Arkansas, Marquette, Villanova and Purdue. Sooner or later those teams will hook up with other colleges, and I am qualified to pick out an All-America by alert gandering and accurate doping.

No town in the country sees that many teams in ten Saturdays. I would also include Appledale, Cattle Crossing and Yale but the Yale boys have objected to kibitzing from the fifty-cent seats.

It seems that Cornell did a bit of sideline emphasizing, and there will be no more lateral encouragement from the restricted suburbs. So I will be out at the Army-Notre Dame game tomorrow rehearsing for strict neutrality as an innocent sideliner in the Rose Bowl. I just learned that Emily Post is coaching this 1940 Eli eleven, so I wrote to the Big Poison of the Ivy League and got the following thesis on etiquette with the bark on:

1—Do not applaud a runback of a kick as our Yale boys are susceptible to flattery and will stop to take bows.

2—Do not cheer a touchdown because it will never be the Yale team.

3—We ask our students to remain silent which should be very easy on a Yale Saturday afternoon.

4—You can sway with the crowd from side to side but not if the girl next to you is pretty.

5—Show no partisan emotions if the game is close during the first five minutes. Remember that when the grizzly chased the parson around the tree nobody was in the lead.

6—When Snavely of Cornell patted a big red substitute on the back, nobody noticed that the sub's number was 158 and that he was in the draft. That was a signal for the Cornell quarterback to intercept the next Yale forward pass. He did that and scored with both feet in one shoe. Yale considers this whole transaction as putting the accentuation on the emphasis.

Therefore, we ask you o take the sportsman's oath, "I solemnly swear that I will never tell an old lady how to cross a street, will not lend my road map to a bewildered tourist nor tell a policeman which way a burglar went. There shall be no coaching from the sidelines, and, losing or postponed, I will never forget that I am a Yale man who earned his "Y" in a quiz.

SPORT-O-GRIMES

I wouldn't know whether Elmer L. Ward has any serious intentions of buying the Bees but if he does it will be a tremendous break for Bob Quinn. Ward is a real baseball fan, not the George Marshall type. Just a lover of the game. With the financial assistance that Ward would be, the Bees would go places. Elmer Ward came up the hard way, and he still sees the other fellow's viewpoint.

Dick Metz, nationally famous pro golfer, has published a book, "The Secret of Par Golf" . . . Bart Sullivan has been training football squads and coaching track at Holy Cross for 29 years. He cannot recall any season when the Crusaders suffered as many injuries on the gridiron as this fall . . . "Buddy" Gahan, the well known golfer, is a freshman at Holy Cross. And Charlie Donnelly, who coaches the Crusader niblick wielders, has assured Gahan there'll be a freshman golf team this spring.

The Princeton Tigers aren't exactly a soft touch for Loren MacKinney to break in as a blocking back. However, MacKinney is a "natural," and Head Coach Dick Harlow expects the Tarheel to give a good account of himself. If he's kicking as he was a week ago against Dartmouth, MacKinney will show Princeton something in the way of booting the pigskin.

As sick as he was Frank Leahy started out to attend the Football Writers' Ass'n dinner last Monday. On his way in town, Frank ran out of gas and had to quit . . . If they continue to work on Carl Snavely, the scribes will have the Cornell coach out of the Ivy League. There are enough mossback alumni of all colleges to make trouble for any coach under criticism of the type being directed at Snavely.

When he announced that this would be his last season as coach at Lowell High School, Tom Keady delivered another straight from the shoulder talk to the authorities and citizens of that fair community. Keady's greatest oratorical feat was delivered to a group of U. S. Marine officers at the old B. A. A. After B. C. had beaten the Quantico Marines at Fenway Park the officers began to tell Keady how tough all Marines were. Tom took it for some couple of hours and then he blew to such an extent as to declare, "The only tough Marine I ever saw is that guy on the poster."—BILL GRIMES.
